S1.A Guidance on Safe Recruitment Procedures

The Church authority acknowledges that safe care starts with the appointment of suitably qualified, skilled and vetted personnel who have the desired competencies and skills to carry out their function in an effective, efficient and safe manner. Whoever is employed by the Church, either in a pastoral or voluntary role, must be recruited safely and deemed suitable for the role that they are being asked to undertake.

Where the Church authority is either a Sponsor or agrees to take part in a Supported Employment scheme such as, for example a Community Employment scheme it remains the responsibility of the Church authority to ensure that safe recruitment procedures as outlined below are adhered to.

Safe recruitment means that the Church authority will ensure that:

- All reasonable steps are taken to ensure that the Church eliminates candidates who might pose a risk to children;
- Those engaged in the recruitment process are suitably trained and experienced to undertake this task;
- The Church's recruitment procedures are transparent, adhere to best practice and comply with the rules of natural justice, appropriate record-keeping and human resource management;
- The Church is committed to the policy of inclusion and equality.

This section of guidance is supported by:

Clerics and Religious Ministering Within Their Own Church Body

For clerics and religious who are members of the Church body in which they minister, the following procedures must be completed prior to any appointment. All priests and religious should have completed a formation programme that includes child safeguarding training. In addition, the Church authority must ensure that the following actions are taken:

- The cleric or religious signs an agreement confirming that they will adhere to the Church's child safeguarding policy and standards.
- The cleric or religious signs a declaration stating that there is no reason why they should be considered unsuitable to work with children (Guidance S1.A Template 3).
- The cleric or religious undergoes the relevant vetting and clearance procedures (Guidance S1.B).
- The cleric or religious is inducted into the Church's child safeguarding policy (Guidance S2.A) and agrees to follow both the policy and the procedures of the Church body by signing the appropriate agreement form (Guidance S2.A Template 1).
- The cleric or religious agrees to work in accordance with the Church body's Code of

NURTURING A CULTURE OF SAFEGUARDING GUIDANCE FOR INDICATOR S1

(Guidance 1.2A).

- The cleric or religious attends all required training, particularly child safeguarding training as outlined in Guidance S2.B.

Clerics and Religious from Outside the Church Body

If a cleric or religious is not a member of the Church body and applies for either a paid or voluntary role within it, they must follow the recruitment procedures applicable to paid and voluntary workers.

If a visiting cleric or religious seeks permission to minister within the Church body, the procedures set out in Guidance S6.A must be followed.

Recruitment procedures for Paid Staff and Volunteers

Safer Recruitment Pathway

These procedures apply to all appointments within the Church body. It should be noted that they do not affect an applicant's rights under relevant employment legislation.

A planned and structured approach to recruitment helps minimise the risk of appointing an unsuitable person. It supports the selection of the most appropriate candidate for the role, promotes fairness, consistency, and transparency throughout the process, and ensures that accurate records are maintained for future reference. A robust recruitment process also reduces the likelihood of omissions and helps ensure that all required steps are completed consistently for every appointment.

Involving children, parents, and victims and survivors of abuse in recruitment processes can be a valuable way of identifying the most suitable people for a role. Their participation can help ensure that the values of safeguarding, respect, accountability, and child-centred practice are reflected throughout the recruitment process.

Where appropriate, Church bodies should consider meaningful ways to involve children, parents, and victims and survivors in recruitment activities, such as contributing to interview questions, participating in panels, providing feedback on candidates, or helping to identify the knowledge, skills, and qualities required for the role. Any involvement should be planned, supported, and undertaken in a manner that is safe, respectful, and appropriate to the participants' experience and circumstances.

1. Recruitment Checklist

Use a recruitment and selection checklist to ensure that effective practices are followed (S1.A Template 1).

2. Advertising

Where appropriate, paid and volunteer opportunities should be openly advertised to encourage a diverse range of applicants, widen participation, and promote transparency, fairness, and equality of opportunity in recruitment.

Advertisements should provide a clear description of the role, its responsibilities, the skills, experience, and personal qualities required, the expected time commitment, and any safeguarding requirements associated with the position.

All candidates for paid or voluntary roles must be recruited in accordance with the organisation's safer recruitment procedures. These may include completion of an application form, interview or informal meeting, references, self-declaration, vetting where required, safeguarding training, and induction.

Recruitment through personal recommendation, parish membership, or informal approaches should not exempt any individual from the organisation's recruitment, safeguarding, and suitability assessment procedures.

For roles involving work with children and young people, advertisements should clearly state that the appointment is subject to satisfactory references, completion of relevant vetting checks, and compliance with the organisation's safeguarding requirements.

NURTURING A CULTURE OF SAFEGUARDING GUIDANCE FOR INDICATOR S1

3. Job/Role Description

When recruiting personnel to work with children and young people provide candidates with a job/role description outlining the purpose, scope, responsibilities and tasks required by the role. The personal specification must highlight the safeguarding responsibilities of the job/role and advise that a background check will be undertaken and references followed up.

4. Application Form

Use an application form, including reference requests (S1.A Template 2).

5. Application Pack

Consider putting together an application pack which, along with the application form and job/role description, includes information about the safe recruitment process. Candidates will then understand what information will be sought from them, why and what will be expected of them at each stage of the process.

6. Interview

Pre-Interview Planning

Shortlisting should be undertaken by at least two individuals. Those involved in the shortlisting process should be familiar with the role requirements and assess each application against the criteria outlined in the person specification.

A range of selection methods should be planned in advance and should be directly related to the knowledge, skills, experience, values, and competencies required for the role.

An interview panel of at least two people should be appointed, with one person designated as Chair. Interview panels should consist of suitably trained and experienced individuals who are capable of assessing candidates fairly and exploring the information provided in application forms and supporting documentation.

Prior to the interview process, the panel should:

- Agree the selection criteria and assessment methods.
- Establish a consistent scoring process based on the person specification.
- Clarify the roles and responsibilities of each panel member.
- Identify who is responsible for ensuring that all candidates are treated fairly and consistently throughout the recruitment process.
- Plan interview questions and assessment activities in advance. Candidates should be asked in advance whether they require any reasonable adjustments or support to enable them to participate fully in the interview or assessment process. Information should also be provided regarding the interview format and any additional selection methods that will be used.

Interview questions should be designed to assess the candidate's suitability for the role and should explore their skills, experience, values, motivation, and commitment to safeguarding children and young people.

The first opportunity to conduct an identity check will normally be at the interview or assessment stage. Candidates should be advised in advance that they will be required to bring original identity documents for verification.

Acceptable forms of photographic identification may include:

- A valid passport.
- A valid driving licence.
- Other government-issued photographic identification where appropriate.

The interviewer or a designated member of the recruitment panel should check that the photograph is a true likeness of the candidate and that the details provided on the application form correspond with the identification documents presented.

A record should be maintained confirming that the identity check has been completed. Where required for vetting or employment purposes, copies of relevant documents may be retained in accordance with data protection requirements and the organisation's records management procedures.

Any discrepancies relating to a candidate's identity or supporting documentation should be investigated and resolved before any appointment is confirmed.

8. Record Retention

All paperwork associated with the application process should be kept in accordance with record storage policy (Appendix B). All references, reports and communications in respect of the applicant should be in writing, and access to them will only be available to appropriate personnel within the Church. Candidates will be advised that their application and the follow-up process of recruitment will be dealt with in the strictest confidence.

9. Appointment of Preferred Candidates

Following completion of the recruitment and selection process, the preferred candidate may be offered the position subject to satisfactory completion of all pre-appointment checks.

Any offer of appointment, whether to a paid or voluntary role, will be conditional upon:

- i. Receipt of satisfactory references (Guidance S1.A Template 4);
- ii. Completion of a satisfactory Self-Declaration Form (Guidance S1.A Template 3);
- iii. Verification of qualifications, registrations, or certifications, where these are required for the role;
- iv. Completion of the appropriate vetting and clearance procedures in accordance with Guidance S1.B and any applicable legal requirements;
- v. Verification of identity through acceptable photographic identification and other supporting documentation, where required.

Best practice recommends checking a successful candidate's birth certificate to identify any name changes since birth. Vetting and barring checks must be conducted against all names an individual has legally used.

Transgender applicants who do not wish to disclose previous names or gender information to an employer can use alternative procedures. In Northern Ireland, this is available through AccessNI's Sensitive Applications Process, and in the republic of Ireland through the Garda National Vetting Bureau's Sensitive Applications process, which enables the necessary background checks to be completed while protecting the applicant's privacy.

No individual should commence work or undertake volunteering duties involving children or young people until all required recruitment, vetting, and safeguarding checks have been completed and assessed as satisfactory.

Where any check raises concerns about a candidate's suitability for the role, a risk assessment should be undertaken and a decision made before the appointment is confirmed. The outcome of any such assessment should be appropriately documented and retained in line with the organisation's record-keeping procedures.

10. References

Candidates must provide details of at least two referees as part of the vetting process.

Candidates should be informed of the questions that may be asked of referees and provide consent for the sharing of this information.

References should be sought using a standard reference form for all roles to ensure that consistent and relevant information is obtained. Referees should be asked specifically about:

- The candidate's suitability to work with children and young people.
- The candidate's knowledge and understanding of safeguarding and child protection.
- The candidate's reliability, conduct, and ability to carry out the responsibilities of the role.

Referees should be individuals who know the candidate in a professional, educational, community, faith-based, or previous volunteering capacity and are able to comment on the candidate's suitability for the role.

The following should not be accepted as referees:

- Family members.
- Anyone involved in the recruitment or selection process.

References should be followed up through direct contact with the referee to discuss and verify the information provided, clarify any concerns, and obtain additional relevant information where necessary.

Information provided by referees should be compared with the information supplied by the candidate to assess consistency. Any discrepancies, vague statements, or concerns should be investigated and resolved before an appointment is confirmed.

References are only one element of the recruitment and suitability assessment process and do not replace other safeguarding measures such as vetting, police clearance checks, safeguarding training, supervision, or induction procedures.

11. Self Declaration

Successful candidates must complete a Self-Declaration Form (Guidance S1.A Template 3) and submit it to the recruiter. This form allows candidates to confidentially disclose whether they have any relevant criminal convictions, child protection investigations, or disciplinary sanctions on their record, including any that are current or ongoing.

As the form contains sensitive personal information, it should be submitted either in a sealed envelope clearly marked “Confidential” or via a secure online system.

The recruiter can only seek information that they are entitled to know as a potential employer. The role dictates what information should be sought. A self-declaration form ensures that candidates are aware that the church body is entitled to ask for this information; it provides the church authority with the opportunity to discuss and consider relevant information before receiving findings from vetting and barring checks and it helps deter unsuitable candidates as it demonstrates that the church body takes safeguarding seriously.

If a candidate discloses a caution, conviction, pending prosecution, or disciplinary sanction on the self-declaration form, a risk assessment must be undertaken to determine whether the information is relevant to the role and whether it presents any safeguarding or suitability concerns.

The risk assessment should consider:

- The nature and seriousness of the offence, sanction, or concern.
- The relevance of the disclosure to the duties and responsibilities of the role.
- The length of time since the incident occurred.
- Any pattern of behaviour or repeated incidents.
- The circumstances surrounding the offence or sanction.
- Evidence of rehabilitation, learning, or changed behaviour.
- The level of contact the role involves with children and young people.

The outcome of the risk assessment should be documented, and a decision made as to whether the candidate is suitable for appointment. A disclosed caution, conviction, or disciplinary sanction will not automatically prevent a candidate from being appointed; each case will be considered individually, fairly, and proportionately, taking into account safeguarding obligations and relevant legislation.

12. Proof of Qualifications

All mandatory qualifications should be verified through appropriate documentation.

13. Garda/ Access NI Vetting & Police Clearance

Criminal records checks form an important part of the Church’s safer recruitment

Church's safer recruitment and safeguarding procedures. They help ensure that individuals aged 16 years and over who are applying for paid or voluntary roles involving contact with children and young people do not have any convictions, cautions, or other relevant information that would make them unsuitable for such roles.

All positions that involve work with children and young people should be subject to the appropriate vetting and criminal records checks in accordance with legal and regulatory requirements.

A criminal records check is only one element of the suitability assessment process and should be considered alongside other safeguarding measures, including application forms, self-declaration, references, interviews, risk assessments, safeguarding training, supervision, and induction.

Children and young people under the age of 16 should not be appointed, employed, or placed in positions of responsibility for the care, supervision, or management of other children or young people. While young people may assist in activities as part of their development and participation, they must do so under appropriate adult supervision and should not be given sole responsibility for other children or young people.

For Garda/Access/Ni Vetting see Guidance S1.B

Police Clearance

Any lay person who is coming/returning to work or volunteer in Ireland, who resided in another country for six months or more since their 16th birthday, must provide a certificate of police clearance from the country or countries in which they have lived for six months or more, prior to coming/returning to Ireland. The police clearance certificate must be dated after the candidate left that country and cover the entire period of their residence. A copy of the Police Clearance Certificate will be retained on file by the Church body and the original returned to the candidate. Application processes for Police Clearance Certificates vary significantly across countries, primarily in terms of submission methods, required identity verification, and processing timelines. Advice and support in obtaining a police clearance certificate can be found at <https://coru.ie/health-and-social-care-professionals/registration/registration-requirements/police-clearance/>

The following websites may be of assistance to candidates in this regard:

United Kingdom

<https://www.acro.police.uk/police-certificates>

<http://www.police.uk/forces/> website will provide a link to each police force site in the UK. The candidate can click on the relevant force covering the area where you resided. A search under Data Protection or Data Access Request or Subject Access Request will bring them to the relevant section of that Police Forces website.

<https://www.gov.uk/browse/working/finding-job> (this website will provide you with a list of registered agencies to contact in the UK who may process their request for UK clearance with the Criminal Records Bureau).

Australia

www.afp.gov.au website will provide the candidate with information on obtaining a national police clearance certificate for Australia

New Zealand

www.police.govt.nz website will provide the candidate with information on obtaining police clearance in New Zealand.

United States of America

Please note that valid Security/Overseas Clearance from the USA must be obtained from the FBI only. FBI Clearance is valid for all of the United States and convictions/ remarks occurring anywhere in the United States would be noted. Individual US State Clearance (e.g. New York State Clearance) is not acceptable as it is valid for that State alone and convictions/ remarks occurring in other States may or may not be noted.

South Africa

Organisation or Body: South African Police Service

Website: Apply for a Police Clearance Certificate (PCC) | South African Government

Other Countries

For other countries not listed above the candidate may find it helpful to contact the relevant embassies who could provide you with information on seeking Police Clearance.

Note: The cost of obtaining a Police Clearance Certificate (PCC), which can include fees for the documents themselves, translation, and postage, is typically borne by the candidate.

Online Checks

Some organisations choose to carry out online searches of shortlisted candidates to identify any publicly available information that may be relevant to safeguarding or suitability for the role.

Online checks are not a mandatory element of safer recruitment. However, if a Church body decides to include online searches as part of its recruitment and selection process, this should be clearly reflected in its recruitment and selection policy and procedures.

Church bodies that intend to conduct online checks must inform all applicants of this practice at the outset of the recruitment process and make clear that shortlisted candidates will be subject to an online search.

Any online checks undertaken should be proportionate, relevant to the role, and carried out consistently for all shortlisted candidates. Information obtained through such checks should be assessed objectively and handled in accordance with data protection requirements and the principles of fair recruitment.

Right to work checks

A right to work check may be required even where a role is unpaid or voluntary. The organisation must ensure that individuals have the legal right to undertake the work or activity for which they are being engaged.

For Northern Ireland, Church bodies should follow the Home Office guidance on right to work checks, including the prescribed manual and online checking processes. Failure to carry out appropriate checks may result in penalties where an individual does not have the right to work in the UK. [gov.uk], [ira.org.uk]

For the Republic of Ireland, Church bodies should follow guidance published by the Workplace Relations Commission (WRC). Individuals who are not Irish, UK, EU/EEA or Swiss nationals may require an employment permit and/or specific immigration permission to work in Ireland. Employing a person who does not have the legal right to work in the State may constitute an offence under employment permit legislation. [workplacerelations.ie], [irishstatutebook.ie]

Pre-Employment Checks for Temporary, Agency Staff and Visitors (NI)

It is equally important to ensure that temporary and agency staff are suitable to work with children and young people as it is for permanent employees.

Where an individual is engaged through an agency, contractor, partner organisation, or other third party to work with children and young people, the organisation must be satisfied that appropriate safer recruitment and vetting checks have been completed before the individual commences work.

Similarly, where a visitor is attending the organisation to deliver activities, workshops, programmes, or services involving children and young people, appropriate checks must be in place before they undertake any unsupervised work.

The organisation should only engage staff and volunteers from agencies or organisations that operate robust safer recruitment policies and procedures. Written confirmation should be obtained from the supplying agency or organisation that all required pre-employment checks, including identity verification, references, right to work checks, and vetting checks where applicable, have been satisfactorily completed.

On arrival, temporary staff, agency workers, contractors, and visitors should be required to present appropriate photographic identification, which should be checked against the details provided by the agency or organisation.

The organisation retains responsibility for safeguarding children and young people and will ensure that all temporary staff, agency workers, contractors, and visitors are appropriately supervised and made aware of relevant safeguarding policies and procedures.

Pre-Employment Checks for Temporary, Agency Staff and Visitors (ROI)

For Garda Vetting requirements relating to contractual and outsourced personnel in the Republic of Ireland, see S1.B: Guidance on Vetting subsection: Contractual and/or Outsourced Positions (ROI).

Where a visitor is attending the Church body to deliver activities, workshops, programmes, or services involving children and young people, appropriate checks must be in place before they undertake any unsupervised work.

On such occasions the Church body should only engage staff and volunteers from agencies or organisations that operate robust safer recruitment policies and procedures. Written confirmation should be obtained from the supplying agency or organisation that all required pre-employment checks, including identity verification, references, right to work checks, and vetting checks where applicable, have been satisfactorily completed.

On arrival, such visitors should be required to present appropriate photographic identification, which should be checked against the details provided by the agency or organisation.

The Church body retains responsibility for safeguarding children and young people and will ensure that all such visitors are appropriately supervised and made aware of relevant safeguarding policies and procedures and codes of conduct.

The Church body should also maintain a record of the written assurances received from the agency or organisation and of the identity checks undertaken on arrival.

Once appointed, the following elements are critical:

- Ensure probationary periods are served, where appropriate;
- Ensure that the new member of Church personnel is inducted in the Church's child safeguarding policy (Guidance S2.A) and that they agree to follow the policy and the procedures of their Church body by signing an agreement form (S2.A Template 1);
- Ensure professional support, supervision and appraisals are offered to Church personnel, where appropriate (Guidance S4.A);
- Provide ongoing training for Church personnel, in particular child safeguarding training (Guidance S2.B).

This guidance will be reviewed annually, or sooner if required, in response to changes in legislation or best practice.

Contact with children	• What contact with children will the position involve? • Will the position involve unsupervised contact with children, or does it involve a position of trust? • What other forms of contact will the person have with children, e.g. email, telephone?
Defining the role	• Have the tasks and skills necessary for the position been considered? • Does the task description make reference to working with and having responsibility for children?
Key selection criteria	• Has a list of essential and desirable qualifications, skills and experience been developed?
Written application	• Have all applicants been asked to supply information in writing, including personal details, past and current work/volunteering experience? • Have application forms been developed?
Interview	• Have at least two representatives been identified to meet with the applicant to explore information contained in their application? • Have the applicant and application forms been carefully considered, highlighting points to raise at interview, including: ◇ The applicant's attitudes towards working with children; ◇ Areas you want to explore in more detail; ◇ Gaps in employment history; ◇ Vague statements of unsubstantiated qualifications; ◇ Frequent changes of employment?
Declaration	• Has the successful applicant been asked to sign a declaration stating that there is no reason why they would be considered unsuitable to work with children? • Has the successful applicant been asked to declare any past criminal convictions and cases pending against them?

NURTURING A CULTURE OF SAFEGUARDING GUIDANCE FOR INDICATOR S1

Identification	- Have applicants been asked, where necessary, for photographic documentation to confirm their identity and place of residence? - Will documentation relating to the applicant's identity and relevant qualifications be checked at the interview?
Qualifications	Are applicants asked for documentation to confirm their qualifications?
Vetting procedure/ AccessNI	- Does the position require the applicant to be vetted/AccessNI checked? - Has the applicant been informed that they may need to undergo vetting/AccessNI before they take up any appointment? Does this applicant require a certificate of police clearance from other countries in which they have worked/ volunteered?
Records	- Are details of the selection/induction process retained in the personnel file of the successful applicant? Are references kept on file as part of the record of the recruitment process? - Are personnel informed that information such as application and declaration forms are held on file?
Confidentiality	- Is information about the applicant only seen by those directly involved in the recruitment process? - Are applicants reassured that information about them, including information about convictions, will be treated in confidence and not used against them unlawfully?
References	- Are applicants asked to supply the names of two referees who are not family members, or who are not involved in the recruitment process, and ideally who have first-hand knowledge of the applicant's experience of work/contact with children? - Are referees asked specifically to comment on the applicant's suitability to work with children? - Are all references provided in writing and verified by a follow-up telephone call?
Suggested questions for Referees	- The post involves substantial access to children. We are committed to the welfare and safeguarding of children. Have you any reason at all to be concerned about this applicant being in contact with children? - How long have you known this person? - In what capacity? - Would you have any hesitation in them taking up this position?

S1. B Guidance on Vetting

It is essential that those people who work in any capacity with children (under 18) are, as far as possible, assessed to ensure that they do not present a risk to children. Guidance S1.A provides the required standard of practice in relation to recruitment and selection. It also provides a checklist for engaging proper procedures when taking on staff and volunteers who will be working with children.

One part of the recruitment process is to screen applicants against police criminal conviction and caution records. This screening process – called Vetting – includes a check against relevant police-held conviction and non-conviction information, against UK lists of individuals who have been barred from working with children and/or vulnerable adults¹, and, in the Republic of Ireland, against An Garda Síochána records.

The Republic of Ireland (ROI)

In the Republic of Ireland vetting is carried out through the National Vetting Bureau under the National Vetting Bureau (Children and Vulnerable Persons) Acts 2012 to 2016.

From the date of commencement of the legislation on 29 April 2016, it is a criminal offence to allow anyone to engage in ministry with children or vulnerable adults, without having them vetted first. In addition, Section 26 of the Sex Offenders Act 2001 means that it is a criminal offence for some people who are guilty of certain criminal offences to fail to notify their employers of this fact before taking a job or performing a service. It is a requirement under this legislation for a prospective employee or volunteer to inform the employer of offences committed in Ireland and abroad.

The 2012 National Vetting Bureau Act (as amended in the Criminal Justice [Spent Convictions and Certain Disclosures] Act 2016) sets out circumstances that require vetting, defined as:

Any work or activity which is carried out by a person, a necessary and regular part of which consists mainly of the person having access to, or contact with, children (and/or vulnerable adults).

Good safeguarding practice means that, as far as possible, management and supervision arrangements are such that substantial, unsupervised access to children is limited.

Under Schedule 1, Part 1, Paragraph 7, of the National Vetting Bureau Act (as amended by Paragraph 27 of the Criminal Justice [Spent Convictions and Certain Disclosures Act] 2016) also requires:

Vetting in respect of any work or activity as a minister or priest or any other person engaged in the advancement of religious beliefs, to children (and vulnerable adults) unless such work or activity is merely incidental to the advancement of religious beliefs to persons who are not children (or vulnerable adults.)

Full detail of the vetting legislation, including definitions of 'Relevant work or activities relating to children' can be viewed here <https://www.irishstatutebook.ie/eli/2012/act/47/enacted/en/html>

Vetting in Northern Ireland

The Police Act 1997 (Criminal Records) (Disclosure) is the legislation that allows for an enhanced criminal record check for those engaged in regulated activities with children and vulnerable adults.

The Safeguarding Vulnerable Groups (Northern Ireland) Order 2007 sets out the activities and work that are 'regulated activities', which a person who has been barred by the Disclosure and Barring Service must not do.

Vetting is carried out in Northern Ireland if a member of Church personnel engages in a regulated activity. An enhanced check can disclose non-conviction information or 'soft intelligence' if the police consider it is relevant to the role. This could be an incident that did not go to court, or information about an ongoing police investigation.

An enhanced check also includes a barred list check for anyone applying to do paid or voluntary work that is a regulated activity. A barred list check involves checking whether the individual is part of barred lists of people who are prevented from doing certain types of work.

Re-Vetting

It is recommended that applicants be re-vetted at least every three years.

Storage of Records

The Church body is responsible for appointing a data protection officer to ensure that all records are retained, stored and destroyed appropriately. Consideration should be given to the storage of application forms, references and any other records of vetting checks that have been carried out in line with data protection legislation. All records should be retained at least for the length of involvement of the applicant, or until they are re-vetted. Thereafter all documentation gathered during the vetting process (for example identity check) should be returned to the applicant or destroyed. A record that a vetting check has been carried out should be retained in line with data protection legislation (Appendix B).

In ROI, the retention of documents is a requirement of the National Vetting Bureau. This requirement is made to assist the National Vetting Bureau with its functions and to ensure compliance with the statutory process of vetting. Advice from the Vetting Bureau is that all data relating to the process should be retained until the individual concerned leaves the Church body in one way or another or is re-vetted for their continuing employment pursuant to the Church bodies re-vetting procedure. All vetting records should be stored securely in line with the Church bodies recording and storage of records procedures.

In Northern Ireland, the Vetting Disclosure Certificate is forwarded by Access NI directly to the applicant. The applicant may decide to share the content of the Vetting Disclosure Certificate with the authorised signatory. The authorised signatory retains a record of the reference number and the date when the Vetting Disclosure Certificate was presented. The only exclusion is if the applicant appeals the decision of the authorised signatory. In this instance the record should be retained for three months, following completion of the appeal process.

Assessing the suitability of an applicant following a vetting disclosure

It must be emphasised that vetting is a small part of a recruitment process and that all other aspects must be part of the overall assessment of suitability of an applicant. The information below sets out the possible responses following receipt of a vetting disclosure.

Legislation in both jurisdictions (Northern Ireland and the Republic of Ireland) requires the Church body to carry out vetting checks with the relevant body (Access NI or Garda Vetting Bureau) prior to allowing a person to work with children (and/or vulnerable adults).

Application stage

It is essential that all conviction and caution information is shared on the vetting application form. Failure to do so following any disclosure by the relevant vetting office may exclude the applicant from the role.

Disclosure – nothing of concern

If the vetting disclosure does not reveal any soft information, cautions or convictions the applicant, on the basis of vetting can be deemed suitable for working with children (and/or vulnerable adults). However all other aspects of the recruitment process must also be considered (Guidance S1.A).

Disclosure – Information not relating to child (vulnerable adult abuse)

If the vetting disclosure reveals information of a caution or conviction (not of a child or vulnerable adult abuse nature) this must be assessed in line with the requirements of the ministry or work applied for. Issues that should be considered include:

- Was the caution or conviction disclosed by the applicant?
- Is the caution or conviction relevant to the work with children? e.g. if there is a motoring offence and the role does not involve the use of a vehicle is it relevant?

Is the caution or conviction relating to an offence of theft or dishonesty – while this may not appear relevant to the role with children it may reflect an applicant's character.

Disclosure – Information relating to child (vulnerable adult) abuse

If the vetting disclosure reveals information which includes soft information relating to child or vulnerable adult abuse, careful consideration should be given whether it is appropriate to engaging the applicant in ministry or work with children and or vulnerable adults.

Remember caution or conviction relating to domestic violence is relevant.

If the vetting disclosure reveals information of a conviction for abuse of a child or vulnerable adult, the applicant should not be engaged to minister or work with children or vulnerable adults.

Appeals

It must be noted that any appeal can only be made in relation to the Church decision not to employ the candidate (paid or voluntary), on the grounds that they are not suitable to work with children. The Church has no role in reviewing the contents of the disclosure by the National

Nurturing a Culture of Safeguarding Guidance for indicator s1

Vetting Bureau or Access NI. If there is a disagreement about the disclosure, the applicant must appeal directly to the National Vetting Bureau or Access NI.

The employer will assess the information returned from Access NI or the National Vetting Bureau and decide if there is any reason not to employ the applicant, from a criminal information or specified information perspective. The applicant will be informed that their application cannot proceed based on the information returned through the vetting process.

If the applicant wishes to appeal the Church decision, they should be informed in writing about the process of an appeal.

An appeals panel will be established by the Church authority to hear the appeal. The Church authority will determine if the final decision regarding the appeal rests with the appeals panel or is deferred to the Church authority for a final decision.

The National Vetting Bureau (Children and Vulnerable Persons) Act 2012 states that the information contained in the vetting disclosure made to the organisation shall not be used or disclosed by the relevant organisation other than in accordance with the Act. Any breach of this requirement is an offence. Therefore, prior to engaging in any appeals process, legal advice may be sought.

An applicant will be told that the appeal process will require that information disclosed to either Access NI or the National Vetting Bureau can be shared with the panel members, and that any representations made by him/her may be shared with the statutory authorities. Any detail provided, for example to explain the background to a conviction, will be shared with Access NI or the National Vetting Bureau to ensure it is a realistic representation of the facts.

Representation from the applicant will be requested in writing to offer them the opportunity to explain any circumstances in relation to the information received that might further inform the appeals panel. The panel may permit an oral hearing if it is deemed necessary for the fair and just disposition of the appeal.

The role of the appeals panel is to decide if the original decision was unreasonable or irrational. In the first instance, the panel will communicate its recommendation to the Church authority.

The Church authority should take cognisance of the advice of the appeals panel. The applicant will then be informed in writing of the final decision following a review by the Church authority, based on the advice of the appeals panel.

Constitution of panel

The Church authority will appoint an appeals panel. The following people should be considered as appropriate members of the panel:

- Chair of the safeguarding committee.
- Priest or religious.
- Lay person with child protection experience.

Advice can be sought from the following: a representative from HR (if the Church body has one); a civil law solicitor; a Canon lawyer; and/or an employment lawyer.

Nurturing a Culture of Safeguarding Guidance for indicator s1

Role of panel

- To receive and hear requests for review of decisions not to appoint on the basis of information received through the vetting process.
- To review the written information provided by the applicant, and to receive oral evidence from the applicant and relevant Church personnel, if deemed appropriate.
- To make a judgement regarding whether the decision not to employ was reasonable.
 - Was the decision to use based on a potential risk to children?
 - Was the relevance of the specific role taken into consideration?
- If it is determined that the final decision regarding the appeal rests with the Church authority, the appeals panel must report its recommendation to the Church authority for consideration.

Time frame

- An appeal must be lodged with the employer within twenty-eight days of being informed of the decision not to appoint. The applicant will be asked to provide written representation within fourteen days of receipt of correspondence requesting this. Failure to provide this information within the time frame suggested, or failure to seek an extension, will result in the matter being closed and the original decision standing.
- The appeals panel will aim to review all information within fourteen days of receipt of the same, and communicate its recommendation in writing to the Church authority.
- The Church authority will communicate their decision in writing to the applicant.

Sharing of vetting information (ROI Only)

1. Vetting Administration/Representation Agreement

Under Section 13(2) of the National Vetting Bureau (Children and Vulnerable Persons) Acts 2012-2016, a relevant organisation may submit a vetting application on behalf of another relevant organisation that it represents for the purposes of the vetting procedures under the Act. In such circumstances, the organisation submitting the application must inform the National Vetting Bureau that it is acting on behalf of another relevant organisation and must provide the particulars required under Section 8(5), namely the name and address of the relevant organisation being represented.

Section 13(2) states:

"A relevant organisation may submit an application for vetting disclosure under this section on its own behalf or on behalf of another relevant organisation that the organisation represents for the purposes of the vetting procedures under this Act and, where a relevant organisation submits an application on behalf of another relevant organisation, it shall:

(a) inform the Bureau of that fact and provide the Bureau with the particulars referred to in section 8(5), and

(b) provide or make available, in written or electronic form, a copy of the vetting disclosure received from the Bureau to the relevant organisation that it represents or on whose behalf the application for vetting was made."

Nurturing a Culture of Safeguarding

Guidance for indicator s1

Under the National Vetting Bureau (Children and Vulnerable Persons) Acts 2012-2016, Garda Vetting applications may only be submitted to the National Vetting Bureau (NVB) through organisations that are registered with the NVB. Such “Registered Organisations” may provide Garda Vetting services to other relevant organisations that are not directly registered with the NVB but require vetting for individuals undertaking relevant work or activities involving children. These organisations are commonly referred to as “Affiliates”.

This arrangement typically arises where a larger parent, umbrella, or representative body undertakes Garda Vetting administration on behalf of smaller constituent organisations. Within the Church, examples include:

1. Association of Leaders of Missionaries and Religious of Ireland (AMRI) acting as a “Registered Organisation” and processing Garda Vetting applications on behalf of individual religious congregations and orders that operate as “Affiliates”.
2. Dioceses acting as “Registered Organisations” and processing Garda Vetting applications on behalf of diocesan schools that operate as “Affiliates” within the diocesan structure.

In such arrangements, the “Registered Organisation” acts as the authorised interface with the National Vetting Bureau, while the “Affiliate” remains responsible for identifying roles requiring vetting, confirming the suitability of applicants for appointment, complying with safeguarding requirements, and ensuring that vetting forms part of a broader recruitment and safeguarding process.

To ensure clarity of responsibilities and compliance with statutory and safeguarding requirements, it is recommended that a Service Level Agreement (S1.B Template 1) is developed between the “Registered Organisation” and each “Affiliate”. The Service Level Agreement should establish the governance framework for the administration of Garda Vetting services and clearly define:

- the roles and responsibilities of each party;
- service standards and administrative processes;
- data protection and confidentiality requirements;
- record management arrangements;
- safeguarding obligations;
- reporting and communication protocols; and
- arrangements for monitoring, review, and termination of the agreement.

Both parties should acknowledge their shared commitment to safeguarding children and to complying with all applicable statutory, regulatory, and Church safeguarding requirements. The Service Level Agreement should be reviewed periodically to ensure continued compliance with legislative requirements, National Vetting Bureau procedures, and Church safeguarding standards.

2. Joint Vetting Arrangements Where a Person Works for More Than One Organisation

A Garda vetting disclosure is not transferable simply because an individual has already been vetted. Ordinarily, the organisation employing, contracting with, permitting or placing an individual to undertake relevant work or activities should obtain a vetting disclosure in respect of that individual’s role within that organisation. However, Section 12(3A) of the National Vetting Bureau (Children and Vulnerable Persons) Acts 2012-2016 provides for limited circumstances in which a relevant organisation may rely on a vetting disclosure obtained by another relevant organisation. This applies where the organisations are parties to a written joint agreement and the statutory requirements of the Act have been met, in circumstances where an individual performs the same relevant work or activities for both organisations.

Section 12(3A) states:

“Where 2 or more relevant organisations jointly agree in writing to the employment, contracting, permitting or placement of a person to undertake relevant work or activities, it shall be a defence in any proceedings brought against a person for an offence under subsection (2) to show that another relevant organisation who was party to the agreement received a vetting disclosure in respect of the employment, contract, permission or placement of the person concerned."

Section 12(3A) provides a statutory defence where relevant organisations have entered into a written joint arrangement and one of the participating organisations has obtained a vetting disclosure in respect of the individual concerned. It does not remove the responsibility of each organisation to ensure compliance with its safeguarding and recruitment obligations, nor does it remove the requirement to assess the suitability of individuals engaged in relevant work or activities.

Where organisations intend to rely on Section 12(3A), a Joint Vetting Agreement (S1.B Template 2) should be established. The agreement should:

- identify all organisations that are party to the arrangement;
- confirm that the organisations jointly employ, contract with, permit, or place the individual to undertake relevant work or activities;
- state that the agreement is intended to comply with Section 12(3A) of the National Vetting Bureau (Children and Vulnerable Persons) Acts 2012-2016;
- identify which organisation will obtain the Garda Vetting disclosure;
- require the individual's written consent to the sharing of the vetting disclosure between the participating organisations;
- set out the lawful basis for the sharing and processing of personal data;
- define the confidentiality and data protection obligations of each organisation;
- specify arrangements for re-vetting, including responsibility for initiating and monitoring re-vetting requirements;
- require the individual to notify the participating organisations of any criminal convictions, prosecutions, investigations, pending cases, or other matters that may be relevant to their continued suitability for the role;
- establish procedures for managing safeguarding concerns that arise after the vetting disclosure has been issued; and
- provide for periodic review of the agreement.

The existence of a Joint Vetting Agreement should not be regarded as a substitute for safe recruitment practices. Vetting should form part of a broader safeguarding framework that includes appropriate application procedures, interviews, reference checking, supervision, training, and ongoing oversight of personnel.

8. Data Protection

Both parties shall:

- Comply with GDPR and applicable Data Protection legislation
- Ensure information is processed lawfully and fairly.
- Implement appropriate technical and organisational security measures.
- Notify the other party of any actual or suspected data breach without undue delay.
- Maintain confidentiality of all personal information.

9. Disclosure Handling

The Affiliate Organisation shall:

- Use Garda Vetting disclosures solely for safeguarding and recruitment purposes.
- Not copy or distribute disclosures unnecessarily.
- Restrict access to authorised safeguarding personnel.
- Maintain a confidential record of vetting decisions.

10. Monitoring and Compliance

The Registered Organisation may:

- Request evidence of safeguarding compliance.
- Conduct periodic reviews of affiliate arrangements.

Invoices are payable within _____ days.

12. Incident Reporting

The Affiliate Organisation shall notify the Registered Organisation promptly where:

- A safeguarding concern arises.
- An unauthorised disclosure of information occurs.
- There is a suspected breach of this Agreement.
- A person vetted under this arrangement becomes subject to investigation relating to safeguarding concerns.

13. Suspension of Service

The Registered Organisation may suspend services where:

- Safeguarding obligations are not being met.
- Confidentiality has been breached.
- Data protection obligations have not been fulfilled.
- The Affiliate ceases to meet eligibility requirements.

14. Termination

Either party may terminate this Agreement by giving 30 days' written notice.

Immediate termination may occur where:

- There is serious misconduct.
- Safeguarding standards are significantly breached.
- Legal or regulatory requirements are violated.

15. Safeguarding Commitment

The parties acknowledge their shared commitment to:

- The dignity and wellbeing of every person.
- Creating safe environments for children and vulnerable adults.
- Upholding the safeguarding principles and values of the Catholic Church in Ireland.

(for use only in the Republic of Ireland)

1. Organisations

This Joint Agreement to share Garda Vetting Information is between:

(A) [NAME OF CHURCH BODY/ORGANISATION WHO WILL CONDUCT VETTING CHECK]

And

(B) [NAME OF CHURCH BODY/ORGANISATION WHO WILL BE REPRESENTED FOR THE PURPOSE OF VETTING BY THE CHURCH BODY/ORGANISATION NAMED IN A]

2. Purpose

The Parties are relevant organisations within the meaning of the National Vetting Bureau (Children and Vulnerable Persons) Acts 2012 to 2016 and have agreed that an individual may undertake relevant work or activities on behalf of both organisations. The purpose of this Agreement is to enable a single Garda Vetting Disclosure to be obtained and shared between the Parties in accordance with Section 12(3A) of the National Vetting Bureau (Children and Vulnerable Persons) Acts 2012 to 2016.

Section 12.3(A) of the National Vetting Bureau (Children and Vulnerable Persons) Acts 2012 to 2016 allows for such sharing of information as follows:

Where 2 or more relevant organisations jointly agree in writing to the employment, contracting, permitting or placement of a person to undertake relevant work or activities, it shall be a defence in any proceedings brought against a person for an offence under subsection (2) to show that another relevant organisation who was party to the agreement received a vetting disclosure in respect of the employment, contract, permission or placement of the person concerned.

3. Garda Vetting Arrangements

The Parties agree that:

- i. Organisation A will act as the relevant organisation whose responsibility it is to apply for and obtain a Garda Vetting Disclosure from the National Vetting Bureau in respect of persons engaged in the following role(s):

The Parties acknowledge that this Agreement applies only to the specific relevant work or activities identified above and may not be relied upon for any other employment, volunteer position, placement, contract for services or activity.

- ii. Organisation A shall conduct the vetting process on behalf of both Parties.
- iii. Organisation B may rely on the Vetting Disclosure obtained by Organisation A for the purposes of permitting the individual to undertake the agreed relevant work or activities. Organisation A will ensure that the copy of the Vetting Disclosure given to Organisation B is an accurate and complete copy of the most recent Garda vetting disclosure received from the National Garda Vetting Bureau in respect of the individual concerned.

Nurturing a Culture of Safeguarding

- iv. The Parties shall jointly decide on the method which is to be used by Organisation A to send the copy disclosure to Organisation B. In deciding what method to use, the parties will take their obligations under data protection legislation to ensure the confidentiality and accuracy of the information into account.
- v. The conduct of the vetting process and the processing by both parties of the results of the vetting and verification processes shall be undertaken at all times in accordance with the requirements of the National Vetting Bureau legislation, Data Protection legislation and the Garda Vetting Bureau Code of Practice.

4. Consent of the Vetting Subject

The Parties acknowledge that no Vetting Disclosure will be shared unless the vetting subject has provided explicit written consent for:

- (i) the Garda vetting application; and
- (ii) the sharing of the resulting Vetting Disclosure between the Parties.
- (iii) The written consent of the Vetting Subject shall be retained by Organisation A and made available to Organisation B upon request for audit or compliance purposes.

5. Use of Vetting Information

The Vetting Disclosure shall be used solely for the purpose of assessing the suitability of the individual to undertake relevant work or activities. The Parties agree not to use or disclose vetting information for any other purpose except where required by law.

The Parties acknowledge that Garda Vetting Disclosures contain sensitive personal data and agree that such information shall be disclosed only to those persons who have a legitimate need to access it for safeguarding, recruitment or compliance purposes.

6. Assessment of Suitability

Upon receipt of the disclosure the Church body/organisation engaging the applicant shall be responsible for assessing the suitability of the applicant for the stated relevant work. The suitability assessment will be carried out in accordance with each organisation's safeguarding, recruitment and vetting policies.

7. Data Protection

Each Party agrees to:

- comply with the General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR) and the Data Protection Acts;
- keep Vetting Disclosures confidential;
- restrict access to authorised personnel only;
- retain vetting information only for as long as necessary and lawful;
- securely and confidentially destroy or delete vetting information when no longer required;
- ensure that the disclosure is used fairly and lawfully;
- ensure that they have legitimate grounds for processing the data contained in the disclosure under data protection legislation.

In the event of a personal data breach, where a report of the breach to either the Data Protection Commission or to the affected data subjects is required under data protection legislation, each Party shall comply with its obligations to make such a report. Where appropriate, each Party shall inform the other Party of any such breach without delay, irrespective of whether it is required to be reported to the Data Protection Commission or to data subjects.

8. Review and Termination

This Agreement shall commence on the date signed and remain in effect until terminated by either Party on written notice.

The Parties may review this Agreement periodically to ensure ongoing compliance with relevant legislation and safeguarding requirements.

Either party reserves the right to withdraw from this Agreement if the rights and entitlements of vetting subjects are breached or due to breach of vetting procedures or malpractice.

Each Party shall maintain adequate records demonstrating compliance with this Agreement, the Acts and applicable data protection legislation and shall make such records available where lawfully required by regulatory or statutory authorities.

This Agreement shall be governed by and construed in accordance with the laws of Ireland. Any dispute, controversy, proceedings or claim between the Parties relating to this Agreement, shall fall within the jurisdiction of the courts of Ireland.

This Agreement contains the entire agreement between the Parties with respect to this subject matter and may not be modified except by a further agreement in writing signed by the duly authorised representatives of both parties.

S2.A Guidance on an Induction Process for All Involved in the Church

Induction and Safeguarding Training

All Church personnel, whether paid staff or volunteers, should participate in an induction process as soon as practicable following their appointment. The induction process should help individuals understand their role, responsibilities, expected standards of conduct, and the Church's commitment to safeguarding children and young people.

Safeguarding should be a key component of the induction process. Newly appointed personnel must be provided with relevant safeguarding information and booked onto the safeguarding training appropriate to their role at the earliest opportunity.

Safeguarding induction and training should enable Church personnel to:

- Understand their responsibilities for safeguarding and promoting the welfare of children and young people.
- Know how and to whom safeguarding concerns should be reported.
- Know how to report concerns regarding the behaviour of a staff member or volunteer without delay.
- Recognise the signs and indicators that a child or young person may be experiencing abuse, neglect, or harm.
- Respond appropriately and sensitively if a child or young person makes a disclosure of abuse.
- Record and document concerns, incidents, and disclosures accurately and promptly in line with safeguarding procedures.
- Understand what action to take if they have concerns about a child's wellbeing or safety.
- Maintain appropriate professional boundaries when working with children and young people.
- Be familiar with relevant safeguarding policies, procedures, and codes of conduct.
- Keep up to date with changes to safeguarding legislation, guidance, policies, and best practice through refresher training and ongoing learning.

Completion of safeguarding training should be recorded and monitored, and personnel should participate in refresher training at intervals determined by the Church's safeguarding requirements.

Induction Process

The induction process should include the following steps:

NURTURING A CULTURE OF SAFEGUARDING GUIDANCE FOR INDICATOR S2

Initial Meeting

A representative of the Church authority should meet with the newly appointed member of Church personnel and provide them with an appropriate copy of the Church's safeguarding policies and procedures. Information should be provided in a format that is accessible and suitable for the individual concerned (see Guidance L1.D).

During this meeting:

- The newly appointed member of Church personnel should be given an overview of their safeguarding responsibilities and the Church's commitment to creating a safe environment for children and young people.
- They should be asked to read the safeguarding policies and procedures carefully and encouraged to raise any questions or seek clarification where required.
- They should be informed that attendance at safeguarding training, appropriate to their role, is mandatory and will be arranged in line with Guidance S2.B.
- They should be made aware of the support, supervision, and guidance available to them in carrying out their role (Guidance S4.A).
- They should be informed of the procedures for reporting safeguarding concerns and allegations.

Completion of Induction

Following the meeting:

- The newly appointed member of Church personnel should read the safeguarding policies and procedures and have any questions addressed by an appropriate representative of the Church authority.
- They should then sign and date the Induction Agreement Form (S2.A Template 1) confirming that they have read, understood, and agree to abide by the Church's safeguarding policies, procedures, and code of conduct.
- The completed Induction Agreement Form should be returned to the designated Church representative and stored securely in accordance with the Church's record-keeping and data protection procedures.
- A record should be maintained of the individual's induction and attendance at safeguarding training.

No member of Church personnel should be permitted to undertake duties involving children or young people without having completed the required induction process and having been made aware of their safeguarding responsibilities.

S2.B Guidance on the Delivery of Basic Safeguarding Awareness

Current basic child safeguarding awareness is offered in five different programme types. These programmes have been written to meet the learning objectives outlined in statutory guidance in Northern Ireland and the Republic of Ireland (see section on statutory guidance below). Each accredited trainer with the NBSCCCI has a training manual that sets out each of the five programmes and the key learning outcomes. The five programmes are:

- 1. Full-child safeguarding training: this training lasts approximately 3 hours or until the key learning expectations are met. The training manual and the training power point for this topic set out the key learning outcomes within each of the three areas. The three areas of learning are:
 - What, why and how we safeguard
 - Creating and maintaining safe environments
 - Recognising, responding, recording and reporting
- 2. Information sessions: these sessions are shorter in length (typically 2 hours or until the key learnings are delivered effectively), and cover topics including the reporting procedures.
- 3. Refresher sessions: These are shorter in length (1.5hrs or until the key learning outcomes are met) and cover the topics listed in the full child safeguarding training for those who have already attended the full training previously.
- 4. Mandated Persons Training: This is a short approximately one hour session (the trainer commits to ensuring the key learning points are covered as outlined in the trainers manual) specifically for those who are defined as mandated persons in the Republic of Ireland. The content can be delivered as part of the other sessions above.
- 5. Training for Young Leaders: This is three hours in length and covers the same content as the information sessions but has been designed for young people who are taking on a leadership role with other children or young people.

Who delivers the training?

The child safeguarding committee of each Church body should coordinate training and its delivery. The Church authority must ensure that local child safeguarding audits are carried out by local safeguarding representatives, in order to identify Church personnel who require basic safeguarding awareness training. These audits should be examined by the child safeguarding committee, who will make decisions regarding what level of training is required for the personnel, as identified through the local safeguarding audit process. This process is completed using the training needs analysis guidance (Guidance L4.A, which forms part of the strategic three-year plan for the child safeguarding committee.

Full-child safeguarding training, refresher sessions, mandated persons training can only be delivered by trainers who have been registered with the National Board.

Information sessions and training for young leaders are primarily delivered by trainers, but these can also be delivered by local safeguarding representatives who have been trained by trainers registered with the National Board.

NURTURING A CULTURE OF SAFEGUARDING GUIDANCE FOR INDICATOR S2

Who is the training delivered to?

Using the information gathered from the local audit, the child safeguarding committee must make a decision as to the level of training required for each person, depending on the extent of their involvement with children. To do this, the following guidance should be used as a minimum requirement:

- For each Church activity that involves children, at least one leader/coordinator must attend the full-child safeguarding training programme once, thereafter they can attend a refresher session;
- All clergy/religious who are in active ministry with children must attend the full-child safeguarding training programme once, thereafter they can attend a refresher session;
- Any personnel with a key position of responsibility for child safeguarding must attend a full-child safeguarding training programme (e.g. DLP, advisor, support person, child safeguarding committee member, advisory panel member, local safeguarding representative) once, thereafter they can attend a refresher session;
- All other Church personnel must be given the opportunity to attend an information session every three years.
- Those that are designated as Mandated Persons by law must have attended the mandated persons session every three years (this content can be delivered as part of the full day, refresher or mandated persons training)
- Those that are young leaders should attend the young leaders training every three years.

Regardless of the level of training required, all Church personnel are required to abide by good child safeguarding practice (5.1A Template 1).

When should personnel be retrained?

The National Board will update training and deliver this to registered trainers, in line with developments in best practice and new legislation. It is expected that if there are significant changes, the trainers will deliver updates to new and existing personnel in each Church body. How this is delivered can be decided on in consultation with the child safeguarding committee and appropriate child safeguarding personnel.

If updated training is not required, all personnel should be retrained at least every three years. It is the role of the child safeguarding committee to plan how training is delivered; however, this requirement can be fulfilled by shorter refresher sessions, delivered more regularly over a three-year period to cover the content of the full-day training.

S2.C Guidance on Raising Awareness of Child Safeguarding with Children and their Parents/ Guardians in the Church

The participation of children and guardians in child safeguarding awareness initiatives is an important component in safeguarding children. Children and guardians should be actively engaged in Church child safeguarding initiatives, where possible and appropriate.

Child and guardian participation helps to empower children and guardians, to promote awareness of child safeguarding, and to create safe environments where children have 'permission to tell'.

Children's perspectives and experiences help to support efforts to consolidate effective child protection systems and uphold a culture of respect for children's rights in society.

Designing workshops with young people

When designing workshops for children involved in Church activities, the following should be considered:

- It is important to remember that the discussion of safeguarding with young people must be appropriate to the age level and ability of the children in each group. Any information delivered to them must be designed with this in mind, and it is vital that parents/guardians are made aware of this information and encouraged to participate where possible;
- Safeguarding awareness workshops happen routinely in schools and during youth activities, but young people do not always make the link between what happens in school and its applicability in a Church setting, therefore it is important to reinforce these messages in an age-appropriate way;
- Workshops should be focused on the importance of young people telling someone if they are being hurt; they should not reinforce messages that frighten or upset them;
- Workshops should highlight a number of people whom children can go to report abuse, such as their parents/guardians, teachers, Church group leaders, the DLP, Child line, etc.;
- Attendance records of these workshops, and the plan for the workshop itself, should be retained and stored appropriately.

Skills

Not everyone has the required skills to work with children and young people, and any work undertaken with them around safeguarding should only be carried out by people who have the necessary skills. Church authorities are encouraged to identify volunteers or professionals within their Church body with these skill sets, should they decide to undertake awareness-raising workshops with young people.

When developing any work with children, it is important that links are established with relevant people and organisations in the locality. This is done so that their advice and support can be sought, and that any work carried out should be in line with best practice.

S3.A Guidance on Codes of Behaviour for Adults

The recruitment of suitably qualified and experienced personnel is a vital aspect of the Church's child safeguarding policy. However, in order to maintain a high level of child protection awareness and safe care, codes of behaviour are equally important.

A code of behaviour is a clear and concise guide to what is and is not acceptable behaviour and practice when working with children. It is an essential part of the safeguarding procedures of any Church body that has ministry with children. Adults working with children have a duty of care to children. Church personnel who work with children should sign a code of behaviour (if it is not contained in the overall safeguarding policy) to indicate that they have seen the code and agree to follow it in full from commencement of their work within the Church.

It is very important that everyone in the Church body is clear about what is and is not acceptable behaviour when working with children. It is also important to involve children and parents/guardians in the process of developing a code of behaviour. When considering what sorts of behaviour are appropriate in dealing with children, it is important to bear in mind that the intentions of adults are less important than the impact of their behaviours on children. For this reason, a key aspect of any code of behaviour is the creation of an environment where it is safe for children to ask questions and express their concerns, confident in the knowledge that what they say will be heard, taken seriously and acted upon.

In general, codes of behaviour should contain:

- Positive statements indicating what sorts of behaviours are appropriate, e.g. listening;
- An awareness of the scope of bullying and how to cope with the problem, as it may occur in any group context;
- Prohibitions indicating behaviours that are never acceptable, e.g. hitting a child;
- Good practice guidelines that indicate what is generally acceptable or unacceptable, but that also allow for exceptions, e.g. in a medical emergency; taking a child in your car without a second member of staff/adult if there is no one else around.

Where it becomes necessary to depart from the code of behaviour, the reasons for doing so should be carefully recorded, and steps should be taken to avoid the recurrence of such a situation in the future.

NURTURING A CULTURE OF SAFEGUARDING GUIDANCE FOR INDICATOR S3

S3.A Template 1: Sample Code of Behaviour for Adults

It is important for all personnel to:

- Treat all children with respect and dignity;
- Treat all children equally;
- Model positive, appropriate behaviour to all children they come into contact with;
- Be aware of the Church's child protection and child safeguarding policy;
- Challenge and report abusive and potentially abusive behaviour;
- Develop a culture of openness, honesty and safety;
- Develop a culture where children have permission to tell and to talk about any concerns or worries that they may have;
- Respect each child's boundaries and support them to develop their own understanding and sense of their rights;
- Be aware of their responsibility for the safety of all children in their care;
- Work in open environments;
- Help children to know what they can do if they have a problem.

Adults must never:

- Hit or otherwise physically assault or abuse children;
- Develop sexual relationships with children;
- Develop relationships with children that could in any way be deemed exploitative or abusive;
- Act in any way that may be abusive or may place a child at risk of abuse;
- Use language, make suggestions or offer advice that is inappropriate, offensive or abusive;
- Do things for a child of a personal nature that they can do themselves;
- Watch or supervise a child undressing, or assist a child undressing e.g. in swimming pools or on international Pilgrimages, such as Lourdes baths;
- Condone or participate in behaviour that is illegal, unsafe or abusive;
- Act in any way that is intended to intimidate, shame, humiliate, belittle or degrade;
- Engage in discriminatory behaviour or language in relation to race, culture, age, gender, disability, religion, sexual orientation or political views;
- Consume alcohol, tobacco or illegal drugs while having responsibility for or in the presence of children/ young people.

In general, it is inappropriate to:

- Take children away or to your own home, especially where they will be alone with you;
- Involve children in one-to-one contact; activities should usually be supervised by at least two adults (Guidance S5.C). However, there may be two circumstances where this may occur:
 - I. In a reactive situation, for example when a young person requests a one-to-one meeting with you without warning, or where a young person has had to be removed from a group as part of a code of behaviour (Guidance S3.B);
 - II. As part of a planned structured piece of work (for example one-to-one music tuition).

See Guidance S5.D for safe practices if either of these situations occur.

S3.B Guidance on Creating a Code of Behaviour with Children

Children should be involved in drawing up a code of behaviour for themselves; however, it is important that in working with children, an appropriate adult with relevant skills and competencies participates to support them in developing the code of behaviour.

The methods used in creating a code of behaviour should be age and ability appropriate, with children being encouraged to avoid merely drawing up a list of prohibitions. Instead, the code should be comprised of positive statements about respect, and should consider what consequences ensue if the code is broken.

In developing the code, consideration should be given to the following:

- Treating everyone with respect;
- Treating property with respect;
- Not consuming alcohol, tobacco or illegal drugs;
- Agreeing not to bring any physical item into the Church activity that may cause offence or harm to others;
- Acting as a good role model;
- Attending activities on time;
- Signing in and out;
- Turning off your mobile phone;
- Telling someone you trust if you feel uncomfortable with any situation or individual;
- Not using bad language when communicating by phone or email;
- Never bullying anyone or sending threatening messages.

For an example of a workshop to create a code of behaviour with children, refer to S3.B Template 1.

NURTURING A CULTURE OF SAFEGUARDING GUIDANCE FOR INDICATOR S3

S3.B Template 1: Example Workshop on Creating a Code of Behaviour with Children

Age group

Six to ten years old.

Aim

To create a code of behaviour, and to work on building trust with the group's members.

Materials

Method

1. Ask the group to sit in a circle.
2. Say to the group: 'Today I want you all to come up with a list of things you think are important when you're working together: what things help you to work as a team, and what things you like when you come here. But because you all have so many ideas and I'll want to get them all down, only one person can speak at a time. The only person who is allowed to speak is the one who's holding this ball (hold the ball in the air). If you want to speak put your hand up and then I'll pass you the ball. Is everyone clear?'
3. Take the flip chart page and stick it on the wall with blu-tac.
4. Say to the group: 'This page is where we are going to write down the things you think are important to help our group work together. It's called a code of behaviour. Everyone in this group has to agree on what goes into this code, which includes rules for adults and children. But first of all it needs a name. What will the name of this group be?'
5. When the children have agreed on a name, write it on the centre of the page.
6. Say to the group: 'Now we have to come up with some rules about how we'll all behave in the group, so put your hand up if you want to go first and remember you can't speak without the ball.'
7. Continue around the group in this way, each time writing up a rule that the children create, or asking the children to write on the page themselves. The idea is to compromise with the children, and the rules should cover things like signing in, time for breaks, listening to each other, turning mobile phones off, safeguarding, and limits to confidentiality, etc. It should also include discussions about what will happen if an agreed rule is broken.
8. After finishing the previous discussion, say to the group: 'Now that we have established the rules, our agreement isn't complete until we all sign it. If you sign the code you promise to stick to the rules up here. Every time this group meets, this agreement will be stuck up on the wall so that you can see the rules that we have all agreed to. So I'll sign first and then everyone else can come up and sign the page together.'
9. The session ends when everyone in the group has signed the poster. You can develop this further with younger children by letting them decorate the code of behaviour.

Vetting Information
(for use only in the Republic of Ireland)

This section must be completed by the named Church authorities

This service level agreement regarding Garda vetting and sharing of disclosures is between:

(A) NAME OF CHURCH BODY/ORGANISATION WHO WILL CONDUCT VETTING CHECK

And

(B) NAME OF CHURCH BODY/ORGANISATION WHO WILL BE REPRESENTED FOR THE PURPOSE OF VETTING BY THE CHURCH BODY/ORGANISATION NAMED IN A)

This agreement sets out the arrangements for obtaining Garda vetting disclosures and the sharing of information obtained through a vetting disclosure, to enable members B) to minister in NAME OF CHURCH BODY/ ORGANISATION WHERE MINISTRY WILL OCCUR.

Section 12.3(A) allows for such sharing of information as follows:

Where 2 or more relevant organisations jointly agree in writing to the employment, contracting, permitting or placement of a person to undertake relevant work or activities, it shall be a defence in any proceedings brought against a person for an offence under subsection (2) to show that another relevant organisation who was party to the agreement received a vetting disclosure in respect of the employment, contract, permission or placement of the person concerned. (National Vetting Bureau (Children and Vulnerable Persons) Acts 2012 to 2016).

1. (A) will act as the relevant organisation, whose responsibility it is to conduct all vetting on behalf of (B), whose members, employees and lay staff are engaged in relevant work with children or vulnerable adults.

2. In addition to the Garda vetting consent requirements, the applicant will fill out a consent form agreeing to the sharing of the disclosure between (A) and (B).

3. Upon receipt of the disclosure the Church body/organisation engaging the applicant, shall be responsible for assessing the suitability of the applicant for the stated relevant work.

4. Records relating to the disclosure and an agreement to share this, should be maintained in line with data protection legislation.

S3.C Guidance on Dealing with Breaches of Codes of Behaviour for Children and Adults

If a child/young person or an adult breaches the code of behaviour, efforts should be made to resolve the issue by:

- Discussion with and support for the adult or the child/young person;
- A child/young person or adult may be asked to apologise for their behaviour;
- In the case of a child/young person, involving their parents/guardians;
- Agreeing on sanctions.

Sanctions may include:

- Time out of group activity;
- For children/young people, a parent/guardian may be asked to attend group activities with their child for a period of time;
- For adults, retraining in leadership skills, code of behaviour, etc. may be required;
- For children/young people, the code of behaviour should be revisited and agreed upon;
- Monitoring behaviour and support on an ongoing basis.
- In serious cases, suspension or even exclusion from the group should be considered;
- Formal reporting to statutory authorities.

S3.D Guidance on Anti-Bullying

We recognise the devastating effects and long-term damage that bullying can have on children/young people and we hope to create safe 'bullying-free' environments for our children/young people.

What is bullying?

- Bullying is intentional, repeated and aggressive physical, verbal or psychological behaviour directed by an individual or group against others;
- Bullying can occur at any age, in any environment, and can be long or short term;
- Any child/young person can be a victim of bullying;
- Bullying can be perpetrated by adults towards children/young people, as well as children/young people towards their peer group;
- Isolated incidents of aggressive behaviour, which should not be condoned, cannot be described as bullying. However, when the behaviour is systematic and ongoing it is bullying;
- Bullying results in pain and distress to the victim.

Bullying can be:

- Emotional/psychological: tormenting, excluding, extorting, intimidating, etc.
- Physical: pushing, kicking, hitting, punching, intimidating, damaging/stealing property, or any use of violence, etc.;
- Racist: racial taunts, i.e. insults about colour, nationality, social class, religious beliefs, ethnic or Traveller background, or use of graffiti or gestures;
- Sexual: unwanted physical harassment or contact, or sexually abusive comments. This may constitute actual sexual abuse, which should be reported;
- Homophobic: taunting a person of a different sexual orientation;
- Verbal: name-calling, sarcasm, spreading rumours, teasing, etc.;
- Cyber: misuse/abuse of email, mobile phones, internet chat rooms, social media, text messaging, or camera and video facilities;
- Subtle: such as an unwelcome expression or gesture that is repeated and focused on an individual;
- Perpetrated by adults: this can include adults who are not related to the child. When perpetrated by adults, rather than children, bullying behaviour could be regarded as physical or emotional abuse. However, other major forms of child abuse – such as neglect and sexual abuse – are not normally comprehended by the term 'bullying'.

NURTURING A CULTURE OF SAFEGUARDING GUIDANCE FOR INDICATOR S3

Prevention

To help prevent bullying, the following strategies are suggested:

- Engage children/young people in discussions about what bullying is and why it cannot be tolerated;
- Encourage children/young people to take responsibility and report any incidents of bullying to their leader/person in charge;
- Review this bullying guidance with children/young people and parents involved in parish/agency activities;
- Seek to promote positive attitudes of social responsibility, tolerance and understanding among all personnel.

Procedures to deal with bullying

- All incidents of bullying should be brought to the attention of the leader/person in charge;
- All incidents will be recorded on incident report forms and kept on file;
- Leaders should report to and seek guidance/support from the parish priest/priest in charge;
- Parents should be informed of any incidents of bullying, and should meet with the leader/person in charge to discuss the problem. A record should also be kept;
- The bullying behaviour or threats of bullying must be investigated and the bullying quickly stopped;
- Both the victim and bully should be supported and helped throughout the process;
- If necessary and appropriate, the Gardaí should be consulted.

NURTURING A CULTURE OF SAFEGUARDING GUIDANCE FOR INDICATOR S3

S3.E Guidance on Boundary Violations

Within the Church body there should be codes of behaviour for adult-to-child (Guidance S3.B and Guidance S3.C) interactions which should not be breached. Those ministering with children must be aware of the boundaries, parameters and limits of these relationships, where a child - and their parents or guardians- entrust their welfare and safety to a member of Church personnel. Behaviour which is inappropriate but which does not meet the threshold of abuse must always be taken seriously and addressed.

All concerns relating to the abuse of a child which reach the threshold must be reported to the statutory authorities (Guidance 2.1A).

The following table describes behaviours under a number of headings where children's boundaries are considered to be violated by an adult.

Area	Boundary violating behaviour by an adult involving children
Communication	Uses inappropriate language around children and young people Comments on a child's appearance (positively or negatively) Has sexual conversations with children and young people Uses discriminatory language about a child Has 'pet names' for children Humiliates a child Shares sexual jokes with children Uses obscene gestures or language when addressing children Sends texts or messages of a personal nature using digital media Shares inappropriate images with children Sharing inappropriate personal details with children Photographing, videoing or audio recording a children when not authorised to do so Using personal electronic equipment to communicate with children, when it has been advised against communicating with children in this way. Sharing personal internet sites with children Creating or using personal chat-rooms with children

NURTURING A CULTURE OF SAFEGUARDING GUIDANCE FOR INDICATOR S3

Physical Contact	Touching a child inappropriately (See Code of Behaviour for appropriate touch) Physically punishing a child Physical restraint of a child , unless in rare circumstance where an adult has to restrain a child to stop them running into traffic, diving into shallow water, hurting themselves or in a medical emergency Meeting a child in secret
Location	Meeting a child on their own Inviting a child to Church personnel's home or other location where the child will be on their own Entering toilet, changing room or shower which are occupied by children and where supervision is not appropriate Tutoring a child in a location which is inappropriate and where there is a lack of transparency and lack of consent from parents or guardians
Gifts/Favours	Targeting an individual child for special attention Giving gifts or money to a child Singling a child out for special duties or responsibilities

Concerning behaviours are those that are considered 'pre-offending behaviours'. Depending on a detectable pattern, these behaviours might also be considered to constitute 'grooming'. Abuse may not have occurred yet, so a conversation with the offending adult may be a good and safe option, and in many cases can help to prevent behaviour becoming abusive (Guidance S3.C). Prevention efforts are greatly improved when adults are able to recognise suspicious attitudes and patterns of behaviour and to take action. When adults know when and how to safely confront someone who is engaged in pre-offending behaviours, they can help stop abuse before it occurs. It may be that this behaviour is detected via a complaints process (Guidance S9.B) or through whistleblowing (Guidance S9.A).

If the behaviour is abusive, report it. If you are unsure whether the behaviour constitutes abuse, consult the DLP or the statutory authorities.

Action steps to address Boundary Violations

- Think about what is making you uncomfortable, then write it down
- Discuss your concerns with the DLP or Church authority
- Consider whether it is appropriate to confront the behaviour yourself
- Choose a private time and place where you can talk to the subject without interruption
- Do not accuse or jump to conclusions, but do ask direct questions

NURTURING A CULTURE OF SAFEGUARDING GUIDANCE FOR INDICATOR S3

- Describe what you saw or heard, and how it made you feel
- Express concern for all involved
- Separate the behaviour from the person
- Encourage behaviour change in the subject
- Encourage the subject to seek help
- If the behaviour continues, formally report it to the DLP.

Action by DLP or Church authority

- If a boundary violation has been reported, there must be a written record of what the behaviour is.
- A meeting should be arranged to advise the subject to discuss the violations (this meeting should be between the subject and the Church authority)
- A record of the meeting and its outcome should be maintained
- A written reminder should be issued by the Church authority to the subject to follow the Code of Behaviour of the Church body
- If required, appropriate training should be provided to the subject to ensure that the violation is not repeated.
- If the behaviour reoccurs, disciplinary action involving the subject should be considered.

Rights of person accused of boundary violation (the subject)

An individual accused of a boundary violation has a right to know the detail of what boundary is alleged to have been breached by them

If they accept that the breach occurred, they have a right to be given the opportunity to correct the behaviour through support from the Church authority.

At any meetings with the Church authority the subject should be given the opportunity to be accompanied and supported by a colleague or friend of their choice

If training, therapy or counselling for the subject is considered helpful, this should be provided by the Church authority

If the boundary violation leads to disciplinary action, the subject should be advised of their rights to access Canon and civil law advice.

S4.A Guidance on Support and Supervision

Everyone who becomes involved in dealing with child abuse – from whatever angle – requires support. This is most obvious for the person who has been abused, but those whose task it is to assist complainants and their families, or to assist respondents and their families, or to act as parish safeguarding representatives or trainers, or in any other child safeguarding capacity, need to be supported. Some of these people also need to be supervised.

What does support mean?

The term ‘support’ includes a number of different activities, which allow a person:

- To give encouragement to someone or something because you want them or it to succeed;
- To help someone emotionally or in a practical way.

It can be provided in face-to-face meetings, or by phone calls, emails, etc. It is supportive to let someone know that they are being thought about positively, and that they can seek assistance if they need to.

Who needs support?

A structure of appropriate support should be made available to all of those affected by child safeguarding in the Church, including:

- The complainant and their family;
- The respondent and their family;
- Lay faithful who have been affected by an allegation of abuse (Standard 4 Guidance 4.2D);
- Priests/religious who are not the respondent, but who have been affected by an allegation of abuse against a colleague (Standard 4 Guidance 4.2D);
- Safeguarding personnel;
- The Church authority.

The nature of the support provided will depend on the need expressed and/or identified. It may vary from outreach, where the initiative is taken to contact and stay in touch, to the provision of information, making counselling available or providing and facilitating a support group.

One way of offering support to priests/religious and safeguarding personnel is through line management accountability

NURTURING A CULTURE OF SAFEGUARDING GUIDANCE FOR INDICATOR S4

What is line management accountability?

In the Church context, this can be described as:

- A process designed for you to work with your line manager to ensure and develop the efficacy of working situations;
- An arrangement to discuss your work regularly with this person, formally and informally.

Meetings with a line manager provide the opportunity to consider the individual's actions, behaviours and feelings about their work, together with the line manager's reactions, comments and challenges. The goal is to ensure that the recipient of the ministry provided by the Church body is well served.

Another means of providing support to an individual priest, religious or safeguarding personnel is through supervision.

What is supervision?

It is important that relevant members of Church personnel who have responsibility for safeguarding children are given the opportunity to attend regular supervision sessions with an appropriate person. It is the responsibility of the Church authority to ensure that an appropriate supervision structure is in place.

According to Hawkins and Shohet (2000), supervision can have three interrelated functions:

1. The educative function, which is concerned with developing the skills, understanding and abilities of the supervisee;
2. The supportive function, which is concerned with allowing the supervisee to understand the emotional impact of the work on his/her well-being;
3. The managerial function, which provides accountability and 'quality control' in work with people.

Supervision can have a number of positive impacts, including:

- Job satisfaction, commitment to the organisation and retention;
- It appears to help reduce staff turnover and is significantly linked to employees' perceptions of the support they receive from the organisation;
- Good supervision is correlated with perceived worker effectiveness and may increase critical thinking;
- It works best when it pays attention to task assistance, social and emotional support, and when it ensures that workers have a positive relationship with supervisors.

What does supervision entail?

1. Initially, a person is chosen who:

- You believe you can relate to;
- You believe you can trust;
- Has the right skills for what you need.

This can be a mentor or an external qualified supervisor. If you are already receiving good line management, then supervision with a different person can prioritise the other two areas of education and support.

2. A contract or written agreement is produced, which covers:

- Costs;
- Frequency of supervision;
- An agreed meeting place;
- A shared understanding of confidentiality.

3. At the supervision session:

- The supervisee identifies relevant issues that emerged in their work, especially issues that were difficult to deal with;
- The supervisor encourages the supervisee to look at other possible ways of responding to the work issues that they have identified, by reflecting on questions like:
 - What was happening to the supervisee as they worked?
 - What was the relationship like between the supervisee and the people they worked with?
- Learning objectives are set to assist the supervisee on their work.

4. Periodic review:

- Set milestones are agreed at the first session and include a time frame in which the supervision process will be evaluated.

Record-keeping

It is important that the supervisor and supervisee maintain an agreed record of supervision, in line with guidelines on the storage and protection of data. At a minimum, a record should be kept of the dates and times that supervision was carried out.

S5. A Guidance on Risk Assessment of Activities with Children

Introduction

Risk assessment is an important part of working with children. It assists with managing both health and safety issues, and the welfare of children. Part 2, Article 11 of the Children First Act 2015 requires all services who work with children to have a child safeguarding statement. The core component of this statement is risk assessment. This should focus on any risks of harm to a child that could occur while availing of or in attendance in your service. As adults we assess risks throughout our lives, but when working with children it is important to consider potential hazards that may lead to risk to children and to the adults who work with them.

Consideration of how to control or manage risks is critical. It is important to identify acceptable levels of risk, as it may not be possible to eliminate all risk, however every effort must be made to mitigate against its adverse effects. If you do not feel equipped to identify or address a risk locally consult with the Safeguarding Committee. Whilst this guidance is concerned primarily with risks associated with failure to follow effective safeguarding practice, it must be understood alongside the health and safety regulation and policy of the Church body.

Whilst the focus on risk assessment should be on groups of children with whom you are working, as opposed to the physical venue, if a problem with the venue is discovered during the course of assessing (e.g. broken glass, electrical cabling) this needs to be raised with the appropriate authority in charge of health and safety for the Church body.

What does the term ‘risk’ mean?

A risk is a potential source of harm or adverse health effect on a person or persons. In the Republic of Ireland ‘Risk’ in the context of this risk assessment is the risk of harm to children as defined in the Children First Act (2015) – (a) assault, ill-treatment, or neglect of the child in a manner that seriously affects or is likely to seriously affect the child’s health, development or welfare, or (b) the sexual abuse of a child whether by a single act, omission, or circumstance or by a series or combination acts, omissions or circumstances, or otherwise.

In Northern Ireland, Co-Operating to Safeguard Children and Young People in NI takes its definition from the Children (NI) Order 1995 which defines ‘harm’ as ill-treatment or the impairment of health or development. It states that ‘ill-treatment’ includes sexual abuse, forms of ill-treatment which are physical and forms of ill-treatment which are not physical; ‘health’ means physical and / or mental health; and ‘development’ means physical, intellectual, emotional, social or behavioural development.

In the context of the Church related activities involving children may include the following examples

- failure to comply with effective safeguarding practice, such as lack of supervision ratios or consent forms;
- medical risks, such as failure to take medication, or inappropriate intimate care practice;
- physical risks, such as dangerous electrical cabling, or proximity to water.

NURTURING A CULTURE OF SAFEGUARDING GUIDANCE FOR INDICATOR S5

Assessing risks

For each activity that involves ministry with children, those involved in leading the ministry should meet with the parish priest/local superior (face to face or virtually) and any relevant safeguarding personnel and complete the following steps:

1. Identify and list the risks: look for hazards in the nature of the activity, and in the place where you are holding the activity. Areas to be considered include:

- Have all staff and volunteers been recruited properly? (including vetting reference checks etc).
- Have all staff and volunteers been trained in safeguarding and in working with children?
- Does everyone understand their role?
- Does everyone know what to do if they are concerned about a child?
- Have appropriate supervision ratios been put in place?
- Have children and their Guardians been informed of rules for the activity and given their consent to participate?
- Have practical considerations been assessed for risk – e.g. where are toilets, washing and changing facilities?
- What security measures have been considered – e.g. access to the venue by non- participants?
- Will ICT be used in the activity? Who has access and how is it monitored?
- Has consideration been given to the safe collection of children after the activity?
- Has everyone been briefed on the content of the risk assessment and what policies to follow in the event that a concern is identified?
- Does everyone know who the DLP is and how to contact them?

It may be helpful to consider these risks in stages of the activity, for example, what are the risks in advance of the activity, on arrival, during the activity and after.

2. Identify the controls that need to be put in place to limit the risk.

3. Identify who is responsible for managing the risk and the correct implementation of the associated procedures. This should include those directly responsible for the children's ministry and those with specific responsibilities for child safeguarding in the Church body.

4. These steps should be used to complete the risk assessment form (S5.A Template 1).

The leaders of each local activity involving children's ministry are required to identify risks and procedures relevant to its own situation. Some examples are given in the following template.

Given the similarities that exist across certain activities, whatever the location, it is likely that these examples may be appropriate to many situations. However, it is important that those completing a risk assessment keep the focus on their own situation and even where identified risks are the same as those in the example template (S5.A Template 1), consider whether the needed controls may differ based on the local context of the activity. The risk assessment must be available to all. Leaders of activities with children must have a copy and be aware of its contents.

Reviews

Risk should be periodically reviewed, especially in circumstances when a venue changes, a new activity takes place or the members of the group change. If no new risks are present, a review of the risk assessment should take place at least annually.

Guidance for Child Safeguarding Statement

S5B: Example Child Safeguarding Statement (only required for Church Bodies who have Ministry with Children in the Republic of Ireland)

Child Safeguarding Statement of [INSERT NAME OF CHURCH BODY]

This statement has been prepared to comply with the requirements of the Children First Act 2015 and is derived from A Safe and Welcoming Church, Safeguarding Children Policy and Standards for the Catholic Church in Ireland 2024. The policy of the Catholic Church in Ireland is based on standards of practice accompanied by criteria that assist in reaching these standards and which can be used in assessing and managing risk.

Name and contact details of the service provider

[INSERT NAME OF CHURCH BODY] [INSERT ADDRESS OF CHURCH BODY]

[INSERT TELEPHONE NUMBER OF DIOCESAN/PROVINCIAL OFFICE].

Statement

The Gospel teaches the importance of ensuring that the Catholic Church community is a warm, welcoming and safe place for children.

Let the little children come to me, and do not hinder them, for the kingdom of God belongs to such as these. Truly I tell you, anyone who will not receive the kingdom of God like a little child will never enter it. (Mark 10:14-15)

Children are gifts from God, to be cherished and recognised for the joyful contribution they make as valued members of the Church.

Our challenge is to follow the example of Jesus in cherishing them. Safeguarding is key to this important task and should be seen, not as a burden, but as an opportunity to embrace and encourage children's ministry, following the example of Jesus Christ.

This Church body pledges to safeguard children and young people from harm and to support them in their development as valued and integral members of the Catholic Church in Ireland. The Church's ministry will be inclusive and will uphold their rights.

Consistent with Gospel values, and with civil and criminal law, those who minister will do so with dignity and integrity, honouring their calling to ensure that children and young people are welcomed, cherished and protected, following the example set by Jesus.

This Safeguarding Children Policy will be honoured and complied with by all ordained clerics, by vowed female and male religious, and by all lay staff and volunteers in the Catholic Church in Ireland.

Nature of service and principles to safeguard children from harm

The [INSERT NAME OF CHURCH BODY] as a constituent member of the Catholic Church in Ireland exists to promote the teachings of the Catholic Church. This includes the following ministry with children, as defined in A Safe and Welcoming Church, Safeguarding Children Policy and Standards for the Catholic Church in Ireland 2024:

[INSERT LIST OF MINISTRY WITH CHILDREN]

Communicating the Church's safeguarding message

Guidance for Child Safeguarding Statement

As outlined in the A Safe and Welcoming Church, Safeguarding Children Policy and Standards for the Catholic Church in Ireland 2024 we are committed to the following standards:

- > Leadership, Governance and Accountability. As a leader, the Church authority embodies and imparts the Catholic Church's vision, principles and values, which are reflected and apparent in the child safeguarding culture, structures and practices at all levels and in all ministries with children and young people. This demonstrates, through words and actions, the Church authority's personal commitment to fulfil the safeguarding mission of the Church.
- > Nurturing a Culture of Safeguarding. Ensuring the creation and maintenance of a culture of safety, including a safe Church environment that is welcoming of children. Keeping children safe from harm is an imperative but more than that, the Church will promote the well-being of children through their participation in the ministry of the Church. The Church will create and Maintain environments that uphold children's rights and that create nurturing, caring conditions where children will flourish in faith and love. Through fostering a culture of care, children feel safe and looked after and, in turn, they will be supportive of and respectful to their peers.
- > Responding Pastorally and Reporting According to Civil and Canon Law. Caring for complainants and ensuring a just process of inquiry. Anyone who brings any suspicion, concern, knowledge or allegation of current or past abuse of a child to the notice of the Church will be responded to sensitively, respectfully, actively and in a timely manner, in line with statutory child protection procedures and Church requirements.

All Church personnel have a responsibility to report suspicions, concerns, knowledge or allegations of child abuse that reach the threshold for reporting to the statutory authorities. The Designated Liaison Person (DLP) can assist with this process. These reports will be made irrespective of the status of the person (lay, cleric or religious) who is suspected of having been abusive to a child. If the allegation being reported relates to a lay member of Church personnel, in addition to notifying the statutory authorities, the allegation must be reported to the Church authority. If the allegation being reported relates to a cleric or religious, in addition to notifying the statutory authorities, the allegation must also be reported to the Church authority and the National Board for Safeguarding Children in the Catholic Church in Ireland.

All Church personnel will cooperate with the statutory authorities in all cases.

In responding to complaints of child sexual abuse relating to clergy and all those in forms of consecrated life, Church authorities will act in accordance with the requirements of civil law and canon law, and so will respect the rights and uphold the safeguards afforded in these, both to the complainant and respondent.

Risk Assessment

The table below sets out the identified risks to the safety of children and young people involved in Church activities in [INSERT NAME OF CHURCH BODY] and the steps taken to minimise the risks of abuse, (as defined in the Children First Act 2015)

Risk Identified	Procedure in place to manage risk identified
Risk of harm (as defined in the Children First Act 2015) of a child by Church personnel or visitors to Church premises.	Procedures for safe recruitment and creating and maintaining a safe environment as outlined within the criteria of 'Nurturing a Culture of Safeguarding' (A Safe and Welcoming Church, Safeguarding Children Policy and Standards for the Catholic Church in Ireland 2024) which can be viewed at https://www.safeguarding.ie/policy-guidance/policy-document
Risk of harm (as defined in the Children First Act 2015) of a child through bullying by peers.	Anti-bullying procedures as outlined within the criteria of 'Nurturing a Culture of Safeguarding' (A Safe and Welcoming Church, Safeguarding Children Policy and Standards for the Catholic Church in Ireland 2024). Codes of behaviour for children involved in any Church-related activities and codes of conduct for adults that promote best practice and integrity in ministry are in place and can be viewed at https://www.safeguarding.ie/policy-guidance/policy-document
The environment in which work with children is facilitated fails to protect them from harm (as defined in the Children First Act 2015).	Procedures to create and maintain safe environments including localised hazard assessments as outlined within the standard and associated criteria of 'Leadership, Governance and Accountability' (A Safe and Welcoming Church, Safeguarding Children Policy and Standards for the Catholic Church in Ireland 2024). The Church authority has in place a system of governance that identifies clear procedures, accountability structures and quality assurance, in which roles and responsibilities are explicit. These are specified in the Strategic Safeguarding Plan of the [Name of Church body] and can be viewed at https://www.safeguarding.ie/policy-guidance/policy-document
Risk of harm (as defined in the Children First Act 2015) to children involved with external groups who use Church property.	As outlined within standard 'Nurturing a Culture of Safeguarding' (A Safe and Welcoming Church, Safeguarding Children Policy and Standards for the Catholic Church in Ireland 2024) procedures are in place and available at [Insert link] for managing external groups, including lay associations of the faithful; visiting clerics and male and female religious; those ministering in external organisations; and groups using Church property. Guidance for Child Safeguarding Statement

Risk Assessment (Risks identified for each parish/religious community)

Alongside the risks listed in the table above, all parishes/religious communities of [INSERT NAME OF CHURCH BODY] individually risk assess their activities with children and put in place procedures to manage these risks.

Risk Identified	Procedure in place to manage risk identified
Local activity with children is risk assessed in each location in which the activity takes place as part of national policy- A Safe and Welcoming Church, Safeguarding Children Policy and Standards for the Catholic Church in Ireland 2024	For full details of localised risks and the procedures in place to manage these please refer to the hazard assessments stored at [INSERT DETAIL].

Procedures

All procedures outlined in the risk assessment above are available at [INSERT DETAIL]. The Child Safeguarding Statement has been developed in line with requirements under the Children First Act 2015, and Children First: National Guidance for the Protection and Welfare of Children (2017).

The procedures listed above include the following:

- > Procedure for the management of allegations of abuse or misconduct against staff/volunteers towards a child availing of our service. Available at [Insert link]
- > Procedures for managing allegations against clerics, religious and all in formation for the priesthood and religious life. Available at [Insert link].
- > Procedure for the safe recruitment and selection of staff and volunteers to work with children. Available at [Insert link].
- > Procedure for provision of and access to child safeguarding training and information, including on the identification of the occurrence of harm. Available at [Insert link].
- > Procedure for the reporting of child protection or welfare concerns to Tusla and An Garda Síochána. Available at [Insert link].
- > Procedure for maintaining a list of the persons (if any) in the relevant service who are mandated persons. Available at [Insert link].
- > Procedure for appointing a relevant person. Available at [Insert link].

Guidance for Child Safeguarding Statement

[INSERT NAME OF CHURCH BODY] is committed to safeguarding children through the implementation of: A Safe and Welcoming Church, Safeguarding Children Policy and Standards for the Catholic Church in Ireland 2024. This Child Safeguarding Statement and our practice supports our desire to keep children safe from harm while in our ministries. As part of our annual audit against the relevant criteria of the child safeguarding standards, we will review the effectiveness of our practice as outlined in this statement and will revise it as appropriate based on those findings.

In addition, we will revise this statement at least every 24 months or as appropriate due to changes in ministries or legislation/guidance.

S5. C Guidance on Maintaining Adequate Supervision Ratios

In planning a trip or activity, it is critically important to consider how many adults are needed to supervise children in a safe manner. It is recommended that a certain number of adults be available to supervise a certain number of children; however, this is also dependent on whether the children have specific needs or requirements, and on the duration of the activity.

At a minimum, two adults are required for each activity.

In addition, the minimum following ratios should be applied, depending on the number of children:

- zero to one year = one member of staff to three children
- one to two years = one member of staff to five children
- two to three years = one member of staff to six children
- three to six years = one member of staff to eight children
- seven to twelve years = one member of staff to eight children
- thirteen to eighteen years = one member of staff to ten children

If it is an overnight activity, additional staff should be considered. If the group is mixed, a gender balance should be maintained.

S5. D Guidance on One-to-One Contact with Children and Young People

In general, Church activities should not involve one-to-one contact, and should usually be supervised by at least two adults (Guidance S5.C). However, there may be two circumstances where this may occur:

1. In a reactive situation, for example, when a young person requests a one-to-one meeting with you without warning, or where a young person has had to be removed from a group as part of a code of behaviour (Guidance S3.B);
2. As part of a planned and structured piece of work (for example, one-to-one music tuition).

The points below provide some guidance in relation to these situations.

Reactive situations

- If you need to talk to a young person alone, try to do so in an open environment, in view of others.
- If this is not possible, try to meet in rooms with visual access, or with the door open, or in a room/area where other people are nearby. You should advise another adult that such a meeting is taking place and the reason for it. A record should be kept of these meetings – including names, dates, times, location, reason for the meeting and outcome – and stored appropriately and securely (Appendix B).
- Avoid meetings with individual children where they are on their own in a building.
- One-to-one meetings should take place at an appropriate time, e.g. not late at night, and in an appropriate venue.

Planned and structured pieces of work

- The particular activity should have a clear rationale and aims for involving one-to-one work.
- Parents/guardians must be fully informed as to the nature and purpose of this work, and must give written consent (S5.A Template 4).
- A clear code of behaviour must be agreed and adhered to by both parties. This should include limits of confidentiality and safeguarding procedures (Guidance S3.B).

S5.E Guidance on Dealing with Accidents

It is essential that all Church personnel (clergy, religious or lay volunteers) are familiar with the procedures outlined below. If a child has an accident and injures himself/herself while attending a Church-run event, these procedures should be followed:

1. Assess the injury and reassure the child. If the injury is severe or the child has lost consciousness, please contact the emergency services immediately by phoning 999 or 112. You can phone 112 from a mobile that has no credit and even from a phone that has no SIM card. The 112 emergency number is a European emergency number and can be called from anywhere in Europe. If the emergency services are to be called, contact with the child's parents/guardians must be made urgently. Contact information should be found on the child's membership/consent form. If the parents/guardians are not available, it may be necessary for a leader to travel with the child to the hospital. If medical treatment is required, Church personnel may be asked about known allergies or existing medical conditions. Again, this information should be found on the child's membership/consent form;
2. If the injury is minor, local application of treatment should be available from the first aid box. There should be a fully stocked first aid box to hand at all Church-related events. Remember to make a note of what has been used from the first aid box so that it can be replaced at the earliest opportunity. Under no circumstances should any medication be given to a child;
3. As soon as possible after the accident, write up a report using an accident/incident report form (see following page). Once completed, this form should be stored in a safe place, in line with data protection, and treated as a confidential document;
4. Always inform parents/guardians of any accident that has occurred involving their child, regardless of how minor you consider it to be. It is good practice to give a copy of the accident/incident report form to parents/guardians;
5. It is good practice to keep blank copies of the accident/incident form with the first aid box so that one can be easily filled out in the event of an emergency.

S5.F Guidance on Trips Away with Young People

Introduction

Trips away that involve young people can be an extremely rewarding and fulfilling experience for adults and children/young people involved in them. However, to do this safely and in a way that safeguards all concerned requires careful planning and consideration. Listed below are a number of areas that should be considered in planning a trip away.

Considerations for planning trips away

Have you:

- Identified the aim and outcomes of the programme?
- Followed your Church body's child safeguarding policy and procedures?
- Carried out a hazard assessment (Guidance S5.A)?
- Recruited and selected staff/volunteers using safe practice procedures (Guidance S1.A)?
- Selected a key staff member who has overall responsibility for the trip?
- Selected staff for the trip who are appropriately trained, qualified and vetted (if appropriate) (Guidance S1.B)?
- Nominated a staff member who is responsible for first aid (Guidance S5.E)?
- Ensured that you have adequate and gender-based supervision in line with your safeguarding policies and procedures (Guidance S5.C)?
- Appointed a contact person at home who has access to all information and contact details?
- Checked your own insurance and ensured that you have coverage for all activities?
- Checked that the transport has appropriate insurance, qualified drivers and seatbelts?
- Carried out an equipment safety check?
- Checked the first aid kit?
- Ensured there is a contingency plan?
- Made provisions for returning home early?
- Allocated a budget and contingency fund?
- Checked out the locations and accommodation of the trip away to ensure they have:
 - Appropriate safeguarding policy, practices and procedures in place?
 - Insurance cover?
 - Appropriately trained and qualified staff?
 - Changing areas for boys and girls (if required)?
 - Disability access (if required)?

Have the young people/participants:

- Been involved as much as possible in the planning of the trip?

NURTURING A CULTURE OF SAFEGUARDING GUIDANCE FOR INDICATOR S5

- Agreed a code of behaviour (Guidance S3.B)?
- Agreed boundaries around unstructured time?
- Been given information on appropriate clothing, and contact details for leaders?
- Consented to the trip away (Guidance S5.A Template 4)?

Have parents/Guardians:

- Met with leaders and been informed of the programme?
- Been given a copy of the Church body's child safeguarding policy and procedures?
- Consented in writing (Guidance S5.A Template 4)?
- Given contact details, medical details including allergies, illnesses, medications and dietary requirements (Guidance S5.A Template 4)?
- Been given contact details of the leaders and centre?
- Been given details for pick up and drop off of young people/participants?

Have staff:

- Been trained on the Church body's code of behaviour and child safeguarding policy, on how to deal with a disclosure, and on dealing with challenging behaviour (Guidance S3.A, Guidance R1.B, Guidance S3.C)?
- Been assigned responsibilities and scheduled for breaks?
- Been made aware of how to handle an emergency, and who to contact in an emergency (Guidance R1.A)?
- Worked with young people to evaluate the success of the activity?

If staying overnight, have you checked:

- If there is 24/7 access to centre staff?
- If there are appropriate sleeping arrangements for young people, i.e. separate provision for boys and girls, and separate provision for leaders (within ear shot of young people)?
- The centre's supervision and security?

S5.G Guidance on Situations Where Known Respondents Wish to Worship

Every person has the right to practice their faith, including being able to attend mass; and this right includes people who have harmed children. Given the range of emotions and reactions their offending behaviour may cause, they may feel anxiety in seeking to continue to practice their faith. Also Church personnel may be anxious about enabling worship and having the correct balance between the right to practice faith and the safeguarding of the children who also have a right to practice their faith.

This guidance sets out the process that should be followed to safeguard children and to safeguard the respondents when they are seeking to practice their faith including attending Church. For church respondents who have a permanent or interim management plan in place, inclusion of the management and practical approaches to enabling attendance at Church and at sacraments should be included in that plan. It can also be used for lay people who are made known to Church authorities through organisations such as Probation or Police, and where attendance at Church is part of their covenant of care.

1. Identification of Risk

This process can only apply to situations where there is knowledge that someone has been convicted of child abuse or where there is a finding of fact - through a Canonical or disciplinary process, that the respondent has harmed a child. This should never be used in situations of gossip or rumour.

Where someone has been found guilty through a criminal process, an Agreement should be reached between the respondent, relevant statutory authorities and the local Church authority (priest) around the following:

- Acceptance that the respondent has a right to worship, acknowledging the importance of faith, and see this as part of the safety plan and self-identity.
- Acceptance on the part of respondents that they may present a risk or at the least an acceptance of the relevant statutory body's assessment that they pose a risk to children.
- Acceptance on the part of the respondents to have an agreement about how they choose to practice their faith including which Church services they may attend.
- The respondent may be fearful of reprisals and their own safety so this should be addressed

NURTURING A CULTURE OF SAFEGUARDING GUIDANCE FOR INDICATOR S5

2. Identification of strengths

A discussion should be had with the parties involved (person/respondent, the local Church authority, statutory personnel, the Church authority of the Church body) to establish what strengths are present for the respondent which should be included in The Agreement. These might include:

- Openness and transparency about all alleged / convicted offences
- Evidence of remorse for the harm caused
- Insight into risk triggers including thoughts, behaviours, situations and actions
- An active support network which is non collusive
- An acceptance that they must not have any unsupervised contact with children

3. Agreement/Covenant/Management Plan

From the information in steps 1 and 2 above a written Agreement should be put in place which identifies that attendance at Church and at Sacraments has the dual purpose of safeguarding children and safeguarding the respondent and should include the following:

- Church accountabilities (Mass, Sacraments, funerals etc) (exclude outside activities)
- Listing activities or services that the respondent seeks to attend
- Outlining which service/Mass is appropriate to attend – excluding any children's Masses
- Agreeing an appropriate place to sit during the services
- Identification of a friend, support person or advisor, who has full knowledge of the risk posed, to accompany and sit with the respondent
- Outlining how to raise concerns
- Compliance and review of arrangements
- Sharing information and confidentiality – what information should be shared with whom and what consent is sought, this includes consent from the data subject to share information with relevant named Church personnel and for the local Church authority to retain a copy of the agreement.

S6.A Guidance on External Groups who Use Church Property

It is a requirement that all groups working with children in the Church body and/or using facilities owned by the Church body are insured, and that they have a child safeguarding policy in place.

The general principle is that the obligation to comply with requirements relating to insurance and child safeguarding rests with the group using Church property, and not with the Church body.

1. It is the responsibility of any group using Church property to run activities involving children to ensure that they comply with all applicable child safeguarding and protection legislation and guidelines.
2. The group should have their own child safeguarding policy and procedures. The group is also responsible for liaising with Tusla/HSCT (Health and Social Care Trust) (as appropriate), to ensure that the policy and procedures meet the statutory requirements.
3. The group should have appropriate insurance for the activity they are running.
4. The Church body should at no stage assist any outside group in developing a child safeguarding policy.
5. The Church body should have confirmation in writing from the group that they have a child safeguarding policy in place. It is not the role of the Church body to validate the adequacy of the policy; that is the responsibility of Tusla/HSCT.
6. If the group does not have a child safeguarding policy then it is up to the Church authority to decide whether to let the group use the property. If the Church authority thinks it is appropriate they should issue a letter to the leader of the visiting group stating that while on their property full responsibility and liability for ensuring the safety of the children rests with the leader.
7. The Church body should have confirmation in writing from the group that they have appropriate insurance in place, which includes the following:
 - The name of their insurers;
 - The policy number;
 - The period of cover of the policy;
 - The limit of indemnity.

As _____ (name of Church body), we welcome other organisations/groups/ individuals within the community using our facilities. While using the diocesan/order's facilities, we want to be assured that all reasonable steps have been taken to safeguard children¹ and young people. The responsibility for complying with good safeguarding practice (including safe recruitment and vetting) rests with the group using Church property and not with the Church body.

The _____ (name of Church body) has its own policies and procedures in relation to safeguarding children. Any group operating under the name/auspice of the Church body will comply with these requirements.

As an outside body, the Church body requires detailed information in respect of your application to ensure that the safety and well-being of the children, young people and adults that work with them are maintained at all times.

Conditions of use of Church property by outside bodies:

1. It is the responsibility of any group using Church property to run activities involving children to ensure that they comply with all applicable child safeguarding and protection legislation and guidelines.
2. The group should have their own child safeguarding policy and procedures. The group is also responsible for liaising with Tusla/HSCT to ensure that the policy and procedures meet the statutory requirements. The Church body cannot assist any outside group in developing a child safeguarding policy.
3. The Church body should obtain confirmation in writing from the group that they have a child safeguarding policy and appropriate insurance.

We would ask that you complete the following questionnaire. If any response is not applicable (N/A), please provide details of why this does not apply to your organisation.

If you feel your application requires further information, please attach on an additional page. Please indicate when additional information is provided in support of your application.

S6.B Guidance on Requests by Individuals for Use of Church Property for One Off Private Functions

Church property is primarily for use for Church sponsored activities and as such has insurance to cover the property and the activities organised by the Church body.

Such activities include:

- Ministry with children that is organised by the Church body as part of sacramental celebrations (for example a Communion or Confirmation celebration involving a number of children). In these situations, the responsibility for safeguarding rests with the Church body;
- Parish or religious order related events that are under the direction and control of the parish priest/local superior. In these situations, the responsibility for safeguarding rests with the Church body;
- Parish or religious order school activities. In these situations, it is advisable that the school and the Church body agree who is responsible for safeguarding using Guidance S6.E.

Individual adults (parents/guardians/family members) may approach the parish priest/local superior to seek use of Church property for a private function with children outside of the activities listed above. Such activities will not be covered under the Church's child safeguarding procedures and may not be covered under the Church's insurance cover. Inherently there will be risks associated with such activities that the Church should not accept responsibility for and therefore letting the property for such one off events should be discouraged.

S6.C Guidance on Safeguarding Support for Associations of the Faithful

1. What do we mean by an Association of the Faithful?

Canons 298-329 provide guidance on such associations. Canon 298 defines these as ‘...associations distinct from institutes of consecrated life and societies of apostolic life; in these associations the Christian faithful, whether clerics, lay persons, or clerics and lay persons together, strive in a common endeavour to foster a more perfect life, to promote public worship or Christian doctrine, or to exercise other works of the apostolate such as initiatives of evangelisation, works of piety or charity, and those which animate the temporal order with a Christian spirit’.

The Canons further define the differences between public associations of the faithful, (Canon 312-320) and private associations of the faithful (321-326).

For the purposes of this guidance and relevance to child safeguarding, these associations can be broken down as follows.

(A) Public Associations of the Faithful that intend to establish themselves as an Institute of Consecrated Life or Society of Apostolic Life

In order to access safeguarding support from the National Board, those that fall into this category should apply to be a member of AMRI. If they are accepted, they can automatically receive support and review services from the National Board.

(B) Other public Associations of the Faithful which have ministry with children

Certain public associations can apply to become an associate member of the National Board, if they fit the criteria set out under Section 3.

If the association does not want to become an associate member, see Section 4.

(C) Private Associations of the Faithful¹

¹ Private associations are not included in this guidance unless their statutes have at least been recognised by a competent ecclesiastical authority. Canon 300 and Canon 312.

NURTURING A CULTURE OF SAFEGUARDING GUIDANCE FOR INDICATOR S6

2. General Principles

A Church authority should be aware of and be responsible for giving or denying permission to all groups who seek to minister with children within a diocese or within any house or other institution directly dependent on the religious institute (i.e., congregation or order or society). Such permission should be subject to the Church authority being satisfied that all necessary child safeguards and adequate insurance are in place.

The general principle is that the obligation to comply with requirements relating to child safeguarding and insurance rests with the group ministering within a diocese or within any house or other institution directly dependent on the religious institute (i.e., congregation or order or society), and not with the diocese or religious institute.

In order for the Church authority to be satisfied that appropriate child safeguarding policy, practice and adequate insurance are in place, the safeguarding committee, as part of the annual audit (Guidance L2.C), should establish what agencies and associations are ministering with children in or on behalf of the Church body and compile a register with details including:

- Name of the association
- Ethos of the association
- Is this an association of the faithful and under the governance of the Church authority?
- Is this association an associate member of the National Board?
- Whether this association is affiliated to a national organisation
- Name of lead person
- Whether the association has a child safeguarding policy in place
- Whether the association has appropriate insurance in place; if yes the following details are required:
 - The name of their insurers;
 - The policy number;
 - The period of cover of the policy;
 - The limit of indemnity.

NURTURING A CULTURE OF SAFEGUARDING GUIDANCE FOR INDICATOR S6

3. Associations of the Faithful who wish to become associate members of the National Board

The National Board offers the following advice and services to associate members:

- Guidance documents
- Advice on implementing best practice
- Advice on case management
- Training

In order for Associations of the Faithful to become associate members of the National Board, there must be agreement by the sponsoring bodies and the National Board. The application process requires the following:

- The Lead person within the Association of the Faithful should write to the appropriate sponsoring body (IEC or AMRI) outlining how they fulfil the following criteria:
- How the ministry follows the ethos of the Church or the charism of a Religious Institute or Society of Apostolic Life that is a member of AMRI.
- Hold statutes, which are approved, or at least recognised by a competent ecclesiastical authority.¹
- Hold statutes that include governance and accountability mechanisms.
- Have insurance for children's activities including personal indemnity insurance
- If the sponsoring body is satisfied that the criteria have been met, they will write to the National Board with a recommendation of approval for associate membership of the National Board for that Association of the Faithful.
- The sponsoring body should advise the Association of the Faithful of its recommendation
- The National Board will consider the application and recommendation from the sponsoring body and inform the Association of the outcome of their application.
- Commitment must then be made by the associate member to commit to following the safeguarding policy of the Catholic Church in Ireland.

1. Only three ecclesiastical authorities may establish or recognise an association of the lay faithful: The Holy See, the Bishops' Conference, or a local ordinary (bishop). According to Canon 298, clerics and lay people are free to form private associations within the Church.

4. Associations of the Faithful who have their own safeguarding policy and procedures

Some associations, in particular private associations, may feel that it is not necessary for them to be associate members of the National Board, especially if they do not have a public ministry, or a ministry involving children. Such associations must seek the advice of the ecclesiastical authority that has established them or given them recognition¹, to see if the Church authority requires them to be associate members of the National Board. The National Board is available to advise ecclesiastical authorities as to whether or not associations ought to be associate members of the National Board.

If the association of the faithful is not part of a national organisation and has its own safeguarding policy and insurance in place, then they should complete S6.C Template 1, which provides all the necessary information for the Church authority to consider. Based on this information the Church authority decides whether to grant them permission to minister. This permission will also require signing an agreement that when ministering in the Church body the members of the association follow the policy and procedures of the Church body including attendance at National Board training.

5. Associations of the Faithful which are not part of a national organisation and do not have their own safeguarding policy and procedures

If the association of the faithful is not part of a national organisation and does not have a child safeguarding policy in place, the Church authority then has three choices:

- The Safeguarding Committee could recommend to the Church authority whether the ministry is appropriate, and whether the Church authority should consider including the organisation as part of the ministry of the Church body. This means the Association would follow the safeguarding policy and procedure of the Church body, including reporting allegations, suspicions, concerns and knowledge through the reporting process of the Church body. It also means that the Association's ministry would be covered under the Church body's insurance. If the committee has any concerns about the ministry, but believes that the Church authority should include them within diocesan ministry, then the leader of the group should be contacted to establish if through training and support, the standard of child safeguarding practice can be improved.
- The Safeguarding Committee could recommend to the group leader that they develop their own safeguarding policy and procedures and complete S6.C Template 1. Once this happens the group becomes an Association of the Faithful with their own safeguarding policy and procedures, and follow the steps outlined in Section 4 above.
- The Safeguarding Committee determine that the ministry is not in line with the ethos of the Church body and/or the practice falls short of the expected child safeguarding standards, they should recommend to the Church authority that a letter is written to the leader asking them to cease all child related ministry in the Church body.

1. Public associations are established (Canon 312), while private associations are simply recognised/approved (Canon 299) by competent ecclesiastical authorities.

6. Management of Allegations, suspicions, concerns and knowledge for Associations of the Faithful with their own safeguarding policy and procedures.

An Association of the Faithful ministers within a diocese or within any house or other institution directly dependent on the religious institute (i.e., congregation, order, or society) with the permission of the Church authority. In order for everyone to be satisfied that child safeguarding remains a priority, there are some obligations on the Association to inform the Church authority of allegations of abuse and of how it is addressing these.

From a governance perspective, the bishop of a diocese must be advised of allegations against personnel ministering within the diocese. The following situations must be governed by written agreements, which set out the legal basis for sharing information

In line with data protection legislation, there should be a written agreement between the Association lead, the bishop and if appropriate a religious leader, which confirms what information can be shared when an allegation is made.

The following sets out the types of ministry within which an allegation can be made and how these may be dealt with:

a) Allegations made against an Association member who is ministering on behalf of a diocese

In these situations, the member of the Association is accountable to the diocese as well as the Association.

- The DLP of the Association should therefore make a joint report to the statutory authorities with the DLP of the diocese.
- The bishop, who has overall responsibility for the ministry, must be consulted by the Association lead and a joint decision reached about whether the respondent should be withdrawn from ministry.
- An agreement should be reached between the bishop and the lead of the Association about safeguarding action that needs to be taken in the short, medium and long term.
- The Association lead should confirm in writing to the bishop the restrictions on the Associate's ministry that have been applied, and the Canonical /disciplinary action that has been taken.
- The Lay Association lead should advise the bishop of the details of pastoral care offered to the complainant.
- Any return to ministry by the respondent can only take place with the agreement of the bishop.

NURTURING A CULTURE OF SAFEGUARDING GUIDANCE FOR INDICATOR S6

b) Allegations made against a member of an Association of the Faithful who is ministering within a religious house

- At the outset, a written agreement should be made as to who is responsible for the ministry and for all aspects of safeguarding.
- A written agreement should be put in place setting out who is to be informed if an allegation is made. This must include notifying the House Superior and the bishop of the diocese.
- Where the allegation relates to a member who is a priest or religious, a joint report should be made between the DLP of the Association and the DLP of the Diocese or religious institute
- Safeguarding action and pastoral care must be agreed between the relevant leaders (bishop, religious leader and association leader)

c) Where the allegation against an Association of the Faithful relates to an activity which is external to the Church ministry

- In these situations, the member of the Association is accountable to the Association; however, there will also be a requirement to advise the bishop or religious leader so that information relating to potential risk to children is shared appropriately across organisations, who have staff or volunteers in common.
- In order to share relevant information, the Association should establish the legal basis and method of sharing the information with any relevant organisations in which its member is ministering, in order to reduce risk and safeguard children.
- If the allegation relates to an activity outside the diocese or order, then it should be reported to the civil authorities through the DLP of the Association and the bishop should be informed the time and date of the report.
- The bishop should be advised what action to safeguard children has been taken.
- Any return to ministry by the respondent can only take place with the agreement of the bishop.

d) Allegations made to a member of an Association of the Faithful ministering on behalf of a Church body about a member of the public

- The member of the Association should report these allegations. The Association can seek the advice of the Church body's DLP, without providing identifying information.
- Notification without identifying information should be made to the Church body confirming the date of report to the statutory authorities and to whom it was reported.

S6.C Template 1: Form for Use with Associations of the Faithful

As [NAME OF CHURCH BODY], we welcome other organisations/groups/ who seek to minister with children and promote good child safeguarding practice within the Catholic Church in Ireland. We need to be assured that all reasonable steps have been taken to safeguard children and young people. The responsibility for complying with good safeguarding practice (including safe recruitment and vetting) rests with you [NAME OF ASSOCIATION] and not with the Church body.

The [NAME OF CHURCH BODY] as a member of the NBSCCCI adheres to the Safeguarding policy A safe and Welcoming Church Safeguarding Children Policy and Standards for the Catholic Church in Ireland 2024. Any group operating under the name or auspice of the Church body will comply with these requirements.

It is a requirement that all groups working with children in the Church body and/or using facilities owned by the Church body are insured, and that they have a child safeguarding policy in place.

The general principle is that the obligation to comply with requirements relating to insurance and child safeguarding rests with the apostolate, and not with the Church body.

It is the responsibility of the apostolate ministering with children to ensure that they comply with all applicable child safeguarding and protection legislation and guidelines.

As an Association you must have your own child safeguarding policy and procedures. You are also responsible for liaising with Tusla/HSCT (Health and Social Care Trust) (as appropriate), to ensure that the policy and procedures meet the statutory requirements.

As an Association you must have appropriate insurance for the ministry you are engaged in.

The Church body must have confirmation in writing from you that you have a child safeguarding policy in place. It is not the role of the Church body to validate the adequacy of the policy; that is the responsibility of Tusla/HSCT.

[NAME OF CHURCH BODY] requires confirmation in writing that you have appropriate insurance in place, which includes the following:

- The name of your insurers;
- The policy number;
- The period of cover of the policy;
- The limit of indemnity.

We would ask that you complete the following questionnaire. If any response is not applicable (N/A), please provide details of why this does not apply to your organisation.

If you feel your application requires further information, please attach on an additional page. Please indicate when additional information is provided in support of your application.

S6.D Guidance on Facilitating Community Service Orders on Church Property (ROI Only)

The Probation Service, an Agency of the Department of Justice & Equality has responsibility for managing Community Service Orders imposed by the Courts. Community Service is a reciprocal arrangement where work undertaken is of benefit to the host organisation (in this case the Church) and may include gardening, painting, environmental clearance and ground work, and of benefit to the Probation Service as it facilitates the completion of Community Service Orders imposed by the Courts.

It is a requirement that all groups working with children in the Church body and/or using facilities owned by the Church body are insured, and that they have a child safeguarding policy in place.

The Probation Service does not work with children in the context of Church based Community Service sites. Adults undertaking Community Service may be placed on Community Service sites that are hosted in Church property. In these instances it is possible that contact with children may occur as an incidental part of the Community Service placement.

Whilst the Church body is the host organisation for Community Service, the general principle is that the obligation to comply with requirements relating to insurance and child safeguarding rests with the Probation Service who are using Church property, and not with the Church body.

1. It is the responsibility of the Probation Service who is using Church property to ensure that it complies with all applicable child safeguarding and protection legislation and guidelines.
2. The Probation Service has its own child safeguarding policy and procedures and is responsible for liaising with Tusla, to ensure that the policy and procedures meet the statutory requirements.
3. The Church body should at no stage assist the Probation Service in developing a child safeguarding policy.
4. The Church body should have confirmation in writing from the Probation Service that it has a child safeguarding policy in place. It is not the role of the Church body to validate the adequacy of the policy; that is the responsibility of Tusla.
5. The Probation Service assesses people in relation to their suitability to undertake Community Service. This assessment includes receipt of criminal record/conviction information from An Garda Síochána. If in the course of a Community Service Order new information comes to light the suitability of the person's placement in the Church will be reassessed in line with information received and this guidance document.
6. The management of the Community Service Order rests with the Probation Service. People undertaking Community Service will be supervised by the Probation Service (Community Service Supervisor) whilst on site undertaking Community Service.
7. The Probation Service will not place persons on Church Sites were they know that the person has been convicted of crimes relating to the abuse of children.

NURTURING A CULTURE OF SAFEGUARDING GUIDANCE FOR INDICATOR S6

1. Based on information available, the Probation Service will do its utmost to ensure that persons convicted of crimes related to the abuse of vulnerable adults will not be placed on Church Sites.
2. The Church will have property owners liability insurance at the Community Service site, to ensure the property is safe for use.
3. The Probation Service is a Delegated State Authority and operates under State Indemnity. Community Service is an activity of the Probation Service and the activity and those performing it i.e. people undertaking community service and Community Service Supervisors operate under this indemnity. Should a Church Site require further details in relation to this the local Senior Probation Officer can arrange for the details to be issued by the Health & Safety Unit in the Probation Service.

As [NAME OF CHURCH BODY], we welcome the Probation Service using our facilities as a community service site. While using our facilities, we want to be assured that all reasonable steps have been taken to safeguard children¹ and young people. The responsibility for complying with good safeguarding practice (including safe recruitment and vetting) rests with the group using Church property and not with the Church body.

The [NAME OF CHURCH BODY] has its own policies and procedures in relation to safeguarding children. Any group operating under the name/auspice of the Church body will comply with these requirements.

As an outside body, the Church body requires detailed information in respect of your application to ensure that the safety and well-being of the children, young people and adults that work with them are maintained at all times.

Conditions of use of Church property by outside bodies:

1. It is the responsibility of the Probation Service who is using Church property to ensure that it complies with all applicable child safeguarding and protection legislation and guidelines.
2. The Probation Service has its own child safeguarding policy and procedures and is responsible for liaising with Tusla to ensure that the policy and procedures meet the statutory requirements.
3. The Church body should obtain confirmation in writing from the Probation Service that it has a child safeguarding policy and appropriate insurance using this template.

We would ask that you complete the following questionnaire. If any response is not applicable (N/A), please provide details of why this does not apply.

If you feel your application requires further information, please attach on an additional page. Please indicate when additional information is provided in support of your application.

S6.E Guidance on Cross-referencing Safeguarding Policies

Introduction

All Church personnel are required to follow the policy for the Catholic Church in Ireland and adhere to the three safeguarding standards. However, there are a number of instances where other child safeguarding policies need to be considered in terms of child safeguarding. These are detailed below.

1. When religious or clerics are ministering on behalf of a diocese

If a religious or cleric ministers for a Church body outside of that to which they belong, they are bound by the procedures of that Church body, including safeguarding and notification of allegations. Therefore, if a suspicion, concern, knowledge or allegation is raised with that member while in the ministry of that Church body, they must report it using the safeguarding procedure of that Church body.

If there is an allegation against the member while working with another Church body, the following will be observed:

- If the allegation relates to an incident that took place in the Church body (other than that to which the cleric or religious belongs), the reporting procedures will be initiated by the DLP of that Church body in accordance with their safeguarding procedures. In this instance, the name of the DLP of the Church body for whom the respondent is ministering should be displayed as the contact person for reporting suspicions, concerns, knowledge or allegations (Guidance L1.D);
- The respondent will either directly inform their own Church authority, or give permission for the DLP of the organisation to inform the Church authority of which the respondent is a member;
- Any decision to suspend the member from that Church body rests with the management of the Church body for whom the cleric or religious is ministering;
- Any decision to remove the member from ministry rests with the Church authority to which the cleric or religious belongs;
- Internal Church processes regarding the care and management of the respondent will be followed upon conclusion of any criminal investigation and other organisational disciplinary proceedings.

If there is an allegation against the member, which is outside of the ministry undertaken as part of the Church body (other than that to which the cleric or religious belongs), the following will be observed:

- The DLP of the Church body to which the respondent belongs will report using the flow chart outlined in Guidance R1.A. In this instance, the name of the DLP of the Church body to whom the respondent belongs should be displayed as the contact person for suspicions, concerns, knowledge or allegations (Guidance L1.D);
- Church procedures will be followed in relation to preliminary investigation and management of the respondent, following the guidance outlined in Standard on Responding and Reporting in Line with Civil and Canon Law

NURTURING A CULTURE OF SAFEGUARDING GUIDANCE FOR INDICATOR S6

- Consideration will be given to the appropriateness of sharing the information about the allegation with the other organisations. Advice from Tusla/HSCT should be sought and discussed with the respondent, whose permission may be required to share the information.

2. When working/volunteering for another organisation

If a member of Church personnel works for another external organisation, they are bound by the policies and procedures of that organisation, which include safeguarding and notification of allegations. Therefore, if a suspicion, concern or allegation is raised with that member while in the employment of that organisation, they must report it using the safeguarding procedures of the organisation.

If there is an allegation against the member while working with that organisation, the following will be observed:

- If the allegation relates to that organisation, the reporting procedures will be initiated by the DLP of that organisation in accordance with their safeguarding procedures;
- The respondent will either directly inform their Church authority or give permission for the DLP of the organisation to inform their Church authority;
- Any decision to suspend the member from that organisation rests with the management of the organisation;
- Any decision to remove the member from ministry rests with the Church authority;
- Internal Church processes regarding the care and management of the respondent will be followed upon conclusion of any criminal investigation and other organisational disciplinary proceedings.

If there is an allegation against the member, which is outside of the work undertaken as part of the organisation, the following will be observed:

- The DLP of the Church body will report using the flow chart outlined in Guidance 2.1A ;
- Church procedures will be followed in relation to preliminary investigation and management of the respondent, following the guidance outlined in the Standard on Responding and Reporting in Line with Civil and Canon Law;
- Consideration will be given to the appropriateness of sharing the information about the allegation with the other organisation; advice from Tusla/HSCT should be sought and discussed with the respondent, whose permission may be required to share the information.

3. If children and young people are using Church property as part of Church-related activity with staff or volunteers from an external organisation

This situation can occur in a number of different ways, including schools visiting the church as part of sacramental preparation, altar servers going from school to the church and back again, school choirs practising in the church, and youth groups on retreat in Church property that are being facilitated by Church personnel.

Each of these situations is individual and should be considered on a case-by-case basis. The Church authority should agree with the external organisation in writing:

NURTURING A CULTURE OF SAFEGUARDING GUIDANCE FOR INDICATOR S6

- Whose safeguarding policy applies and when;
- Who is responsible for the children and when;
- Which DLP will take responsibility for reporting allegations.

This should be recorded and stored appropriately using the guidance in Appendix B.

4. If the Church authority presides over communities outside Ireland

If this occurs, the policy of the Catholic Church in Ireland and the associated indicators applicable under the three safeguarding standards should apply alongside local legislation. If there is a concern about reporting allegations of abuse to the local statutory authorities, advice should be sought from the National Board as to how to proceed.

S6.F Guidance on Ensuring All Clerics/
Religious, who are Members of the Church Body and are Ministering with Children in an External Organisation/Church Body, Agree to Follow
Effective Safeguarding Practice

It is important that where clerics/religious are ministering with children in an external organisation or Church body, the Church authority must have agreement from the external organisation or Church body that effective safeguarding policies and procedures are in place.

To do this, the Church authority should have written agreements in place for every cleric/religious who is ministering with children in an external organisation or Church body (S6.F Template 1). This agreement should include:

- That the organisation for whom the member is ministering has safeguarding policies and procedures in place;
- That the member ministering in this external organisation understands that while they are working for that organisation, the safeguarding policies and procedures must be adhered to.

S6.G Guidance on Visiting Clergy, Religious, Lay Ecclesial Ministers, Seminarians and Visits to Shrines

All steps must be taken to ensure a safe and nurturing environment within the Church for children. For that reason, it is important that all those who engage in public ministry require confirmation that they are fit for that sacred task. The safeguarding of children within the Irish Catholic Church is of critical importance.

Whilst lay faithful (including lay ministers) are subject to safe recruitment practice (Guidance S1.A), all clergy (secular or religious, bishop, priest or deacon) who seek to minister in the Catholic Church in Ireland must be incardinated. This means that he must belong to a diocese (or its equivalent in Canon law), a personal prelature (such as Opus Dei), an institute of religious life (such as the Franciscans) or a society that has this faculty (such as the Society of African Missions).

Incardination has three main purposes:

- It is pastoral; a cleric is ordained for the service of a particular Church to which he belongs;
- It is an effective structure for maintaining discipline, creating a bond between the cleric and his competent superior;
- It provides the individual cleric with a guarantee that his rights are protected.

Further to this, the cleric must be in good standing and enjoy the faculties necessary to minister. In law, a faculty is the authority, privilege or permission to perform an act or function, for example, regarding the Sacraments of Penance and Marriage. A cleric receives his faculties from the ordinary of the place where he has domicile; however, each local ordinary is responsible for ensuring that clergy who minister within their territory are in good standing.

The Church authority has a responsibility to take measures to ensure the safety and welfare of children. It is therefore important that certain checks are carried out to ensure that all clergy are in good standing prior to faculties being received.

To assist with understanding the requirements this guidance is separated into the following sub headings:

- Procedures for visiting clergy within Ireland
- Procedures to be followed by visiting clergy from outside Ireland wishing to minister on a short-term basis
- Procedures to be followed by visiting clergy from outside Ireland wishing to minister at a one-off event
- Procedures for visiting persons in any form of consecrated life within and outside Ireland
- Procedures for seminarians and pastoral students undertaking pastoral placements as part of their formation
- Procedures for visiting clerics or visiting persons in any form of consecrated life ministering at shrines, national shrines and international shrines
- Procedures for lay ecclesial ministers
- Procedures for retired clerics who seek to minister and who have no Church Authority in Ireland

NURTURING A CULTURE OF SAFEGUARDING GUIDANCE FOR INDICATOR S6

Procedures for visiting clergy within Ireland

All clergy incardinated into the diocese or religious order will have been Garda/AccessNI vetted as part of safe recruitment (Guidance S1.A).

Visiting clergy should follow best practice and contact the local parish priest/superior of a religious house before undertaking ministry in that ecclesiastical jurisdiction. If this ministry is considered to be regulated activity, then the guidance regarding the vetting process must be undertaken and a letter of good standing received (1.1C Template 2) from the ordinary of the cleric.

However, should the cleric be present for one event in a parish or diocese, such as a funeral, baptism or wedding, he should sign the register in the sacristy to declare his presence on a particular time and date. Furthermore, should the cleric not be incardinated in the ecclesiastical jurisdiction that he visits, he must provide his celebret for inspection by the parish priest or duly delegated person, and this should be noted beside the visitor's signature in the register.

Procedures to be followed by visiting clergy from outside Ireland wishing to minister on a short-term basis

When clergy from outside Ireland visit with the intention of being involved in short-term ministry, evidence should be provided that confirms they are priests in good standing and that they are fit for ministry.

Clergy who come from parts of the world where police vetting arrangements are not in existence may seek to minister in Ireland. As a consequence, the statutory route is not always available as a means of confirming that there is no adverse information known about them that would prevent them from carrying out ministry in Ireland.

- Prior to visiting Ireland, where there is an intention to engage in public ministry, all visiting priests must write seeking permission of the Church authority, giving details about the duration of the visit, the type of ministry and the location of ministry being considered. The contact details of the Church authority of the visiting priest must be provided in advance;
- Upon receipt of a request from visiting clergy to carry out ministry, the Church authority must acknowledge the same, and then make a request in writing to the visitor (S6.G Template 1) for a celebret or confirmation of good standing (S6.G Template 3), signed by their Church authority;
- The visiting priest must be asked to complete a declaration of good standing form (S6.G Template 2);
- A vetting check must be carried out through the Garda National Vetting Bureau/AccessNI (Guidance S1.B);
- If the Church authority is satisfied that there are no concerns about the visiting religious, permission should be given in writing to the visitor, outlining the specified ministry, including its duration and location (S6.G Template 4);
- A copy of this permission (S6.G Template 4) should be forwarded to the parish priest or local superior of the visitor, and also to the parish priest or local superior of the location of the ministry outlined in the letter;
- A copy of the permission (S6.G Template 4) should be stored in the offices of the Church authority, in line with confidentiality and storage of information (Appendix B).

NURTURING A CULTURE OF SAFEGUARDING GUIDANCE FOR INDICATOR S6

Procedures to be followed by visiting clergy from outside Ireland wishing to minister at a one-off event

Visiting clergy should follow best practice and contact the local parish priest/superior of a religious house before undertaking ministry in that ecclesiastical jurisdiction. If this ministry is considered to be regulated activity (as defined in Guidance S1.B), then the guidance regarding the vetting process should be undertaken and a letter of good standing received from the ordinary of the cleric.

However, should the cleric be present for one event in a parish or diocese, such as a funeral, baptism or wedding, he should sign the register in the sacristy to declare his presence on a particular time and date. Furthermore, should the priest not be incardinated in the ecclesiastical jurisdiction that he visits, he must provide his celebret for inspection by the parish priest or duly delegated person, and this should be noted beside the visitor's signature in the register.

Procedures for visiting persons in any form of consecrated life within and outside Ireland

- Prior to their visit, where there is an intention to engage in public ministry, all visiting religious must write seeking permission of the Church authority, giving details about the duration of the visit, the type of ministry and the location of ministry being considered. Contact details of the Church authority of the visiting religious must be provided in advance;
- Upon receipt of request from the visiting religious to carry out ministry, the Church authority must acknowledge the same, and then make a request in writing to the visitor (S6.G Template 1) for a confirmation of good standing (S6.G Template 5), signed by their Church authority;
- A vetting check must be processed through the Garda National Vetting Bureau/AccessNI (Guidance S1.B);
- If the Church authority is satisfied that there are no concerns about the visiting religious, permission should be given in writing to the visitor, outlining the specified ministry, including its duration and location (S6.G Template 4);
- A copy of this permission (S6.G Template 4) should be forwarded to the parish priest or local superior of the visitor, and also to the parish priest or local superior of the location of the ministry outlined in the letter;
- A copy of the permission (S6.G Template 4) should be stored in the offices of the Church authority, in line with confidentiality and storage of information (Appendix B).

Procedures for seminarians and pastoral students undertaking pastoral placements as part of their formation

- Prior to the placement visit, where there is an intention to engage in public ministry, all seminarians and students must commit to following the child safeguarding policy and standards of the Catholic Church in Ireland (Guidance S6.E).
- The placement organiser must be satisfied that all placements are governed by a child safeguarding policy.
- If the placement is outside the Church, all child safeguarding requirements of the organisation within which the placement takes place must be followed. See guidance on cross-referencing safeguarding policies (Guidance S6.E).
- Where the ministry involves regular and necessary contact with children (and /or vulnerable adults) the student/seminarian must be vetted by the placement provider through the Garda National Vetting Bureau/Access NI (Guidance S1.B).
- Any concerns relating to the student/seminarian of a child safeguarding nature whilst on placement must be shared with the Rector/President and processed in line with the Church's reporting procedures (Guidance R1.A).

NURTURING A CULTURE OF SAFEGUARDING GUIDANCE FOR INDICATOR S6

- Records must be retained which demonstrate that the required checks have taken place and the student/seminarian has agreed to follow the child safeguarding procedures of the Church and the placement provider. A copy of this record should be stored in the offices of the Seminary in line with confidentiality and storage of information (Appendix B).

Procedures for visiting clerics or visiting persons in any form of consecrated life ministering at shrines, national shrines and international shrines

A Shrine is a Catholic church or other sacred place which with the approval of the local ordinary is by reason of special devotion frequented by the faithful as pilgrims (Canon 1230).

To be considered a National Shrine the approval of the National Episcopal Conference is necessary. For it to be described as International, the approval of the Holy See is necessary (Canon 1231).

For visiting clerics or those in any form of consecrated life, ministering in Shrines and National Shrines in Ireland

- Prior to the visit, where there is an intention to engage in public ministry, all visiting clerics and those in any form of consecrated life must follow this guidance (S6.G). In particular:
- If the visiting cleric is ministering at a one-off event which is not considered a regulated activity (as defined in Guidance S1.B) the cleric must provide his celebret for inspection by the parish priest or duly delegated person and this should be noted beside the visitor's signature in the register.
- If the ministry is for a short term basis, the visiting cleric must follow the requirements set out in heading above.
- If the ministry is being carried out by a non-ordained religious then the guidance outlined in the heading above must be followed.

Visiting clerics celebrating or concelebrating Mass at Shrines outside Ireland

- If the Shrine is outside of Ireland all child safeguarding requirements of the organisation within which the ministry takes place must be followed.
- The main celebrant must allocate responsibility for each cleric wishing to concelebrate to have their celebret cards checked to ensure they are in good standing.
- A cleric who is out of ministry due to child safeguarding concerns must not attempt to celebrate any sacrament in public while abroad.

NURTURING A CULTURE OF SAFEGUARDING GUIDANCE FOR INDICATOR S6

Procedures for Lay Ecclesial Ministers

Lay Ecclesial Ministry is the term adopted to identify the relatively new category of pastoral ministers in the Catholic Church who are not ordained. Lay ecclesial ministers are co-workers with the Church authority alongside priests, non-ordained religious and deacons. In other contexts, these may be known as number of different terms including 'lay pastoral workers' or 'pastoral assistants'.

All lay ecclesial lay ministers are authorised by a Church authority to serve publicly. Some lay ministers are appointed by a Church authority and undergo a period of training for their role, others belong to other Church bodies/ external organisations and minister in a particular area, such as youth ministry

Lay Ministers can perform a variety of roles including chaplaincy work; parish catechesis and other pastoral work as identified by a Church authority.

Formation is determined the Church authority or leader of the organisation. As yet lay ministers do not hold letters of good standing.

When a lay minister either as a sole worker or as part of an organisation moves between Church Bodies, appropriate checks should be conducted to ensure that they do not present a risk to children.

Where there is contact with children the following requirements must be honoured:

Requirements when the lay minister is an individual

The lay minister in this context is considered a member of Church personnel and therefore must be recruited following the safe recruitment guidance including vetting (S1.A and Guidance S1.B).

Requirements when the lay minister is part of another Church body/external organisation

Prior to their ministry the lay minister must seek permission or be invited by the Church authority of the Church body in which they are seeking to minister

The Church authority should require the manager/Church authority of the organisation the lay minister belongs to, to complete S6.G Template 6.

Upon receipt of S6.G Template 6, the Church authority should grant or deny the lay minister's request in writing, also notifying their manager/Church authority.

A copy of this permission and S6.G E Template 6 should be stored in the offices of the receiving Church authority in line with confidentiality and storage of information (Appendix B).

S6.H Guidance for Religious (who do not have Ministry with Children or are not Managing Allegations) whose Church is Used for Public Masses or Other Ministry with Children

Some religious orders, for example, enclosed communities, may open their property to groups of children as part of their faith development. Responsibility for the children rests with the organisers of the visit (the school, those involved with sacramental preparation, etc.).

If a member of the Church body is directly involved with the children, this is classed as ministry with children, and the applicable indicators in Table 2 of the policy apply.

If a member of the Church body is not directly involved with the children, this is classed as not having a ministry with children, and the Church body is only required to fulfil the indicators contained in Table 1 of the safeguarding policy. In this situation the following safeguards must be in place:

- The adult leader organising the visit is advised that the safeguarding procedures of the Church body/school to which they belong apply during the period of the visit.
- The organiser is asked to complete a form for use of Church property by external groups (Guidance S6. A Template 1), and this is retained by the Church body as part of record-keeping requirements (Appendix B).

Where a religious order/congregation facilitates Mass on its property, which may be attended by members of the public, including children, the following safeguards are required:

- The Church authority of the religious order ensures that the visiting priest shows his celebret/letter of good standing, and a record is kept to this effect .
- The priest agrees to follow his own diocesan/religious order's child safeguarding procedures.

S7.A Guidance on Use of Technology

Church authorities need to assess the benefits of technology and how this can be used safely and effectively, in line with rules that respect the dignity and rights of all users, particularly children.

Detailed policies and procedures should be provided on the use of technology, including digital and online systems such as:

- Conducting Ministry with children using digital media (Guidance S7.B);
- Texting and emailing (Guidance S7.C);
- Photography (Guidance S7.D);
- CCTV and webcams (Guidance S7.E).

The majority of occasions when people use mobile phones, computers or take photographs of children do not provide any cause for concern. However, there are occasions when this is not the case.

At the outset it is important to identify the risks associated with the use of technology, and then to minimise the risks by putting in place measures outlined below. GAP Paper 1 on Child Safeguarding and Digital Media may be useful to assist with this.

Consent

The consent of parents/guardians and children should always be sought prior to engaging in any activity that involves the use of IT equipment, such as those outlined above.

A Church body may seek overall consent from its members/group leaders (S5.A Template 4), or it may ask for permission for set occasions (S7. A Template 1).

When seeking consent for the use of images or videos for Church purposes such as First Communion or Confirmation, the following should be considered:

- The issue of consent for photography/videoing for Church purposes should be addressed with parents/guardians and children prior to the sacramental day, and the policy should be explained to all families who will be attending;
- In seeking consent for photography/videos, children and families should be reminded about the rights to privacy and data protection of other children, their families and the wider community;
- Those organising an event for Church purposes, and who are seeking consent for photography/video usage, should be sensitive to the fact that many parents/guardians are reluctant to allow the general viewing of their children, or of children in their care, on sites such as YouTube, Facebook, etc.
- Close liaison on the issue of consent should be maintained with relevant authorities to agree mechanisms for securing consent, some schools establish consent at the year start.

NURTURING A CULTURE OF SAFEGUARDING GUIDANCE FOR INDICATOR S7

Purpose

Guidelines should be clear as to the reason and purpose of the use of the particular form of technology:

- Provide a clear brief about what is considered appropriate in terms of content and behaviour and use of equipment;
- Provide guidance on acceptable language;
- Provide guidance on storage of information;
- Provide guidance on use of photography: if using an external photographer/videographer, seek confirmation about any publications that will be made by them after the event, and ensure that they have been vetted, have identification and do not have any unsupervised access to children or one-to-one photo sessions at events;
- Images of children should never be taken that capture them in what are commonly understood as 'non-public' activities. Children should be fully and appropriately dressed and related images should always be about the activity and not focused on any individual child;
- Images should not allow the identification of a child or their whereabouts. The full name of a child should not be used;
- Children in vulnerable circumstances (e.g. those in care or victims of any type of abuse) should not be photographed without the consent of those who hold parental responsibility;
- Provide guidance on the use of mobile phones, and especially on the use of mobile phone cameras, which can be easily used for offensive actions without the subject being aware of their use;
- Provide guidance on how to communicate this policy with parents/guardians and young people.

S7. B Guidance on Conducting Ministry with Children Using Digital Media

1. Introduction to use of the internet and other forms of digital media

It is recognised that the internet, and other forms of digital media (whatsapp, texting etc) are valuable and widely used. Within the Church context, clear guidelines must be developed and added into the code of behaviour for each Church activity involving children (Guidance S3.B).

The following are deemed unacceptable behaviours, and must be avoided in every situation:

- Visiting internet sites that contain offensive, obscene, pornographic or illegal material;
- Using a computer to perpetrate any form of fraud or piracy;
- Using the internet or email systems to send offensive and harassing material to others;
- Using obscene or racist language in computer-assisted communications;
- Publishing defamatory or otherwise false material generated by oneself or by others through social networking;
- Introducing any form of malicious software into the used network;
- Intentionally damaging any information communication technology equipment;
- Using another user's password, or giving that password to a third party.

It is important that the following are made clear to all who use the internet:

- All Church personnel/volunteers/group leaders must be made aware of their responsibility, and sign up to appropriate use of the internet as part of a code of behaviour (Guidance S3.B);
- Responsibility is about safeguarding children, taking care of oneself, one's co-workers and group leaders;
- Anyone using a shared computer requires their own individual password;
- Training in appropriate and responsible internet and computer use is imperative in order to follow best practice in all activities that concern children, co-workers and volunteers.

2. Use of digital platforms for online ministry

The use of "digital" or "online" platforms enables Church personnel to communicate and engage with others as part of a range of approaches to ministry. Children and young people, in particular, may be more familiar with electronic communication as a medium to engage with others. In order to ensure the safety and dignity of children online, measures need to be put in place which recognise and mitigate potential risks to children.

There are a number of data protection requirements that must be met in relation to broadcasting on the internet; these must be adhered to and appropriate consent and data retention guidelines followed e.g. recording people via a web camera, and the subsequent displaying of such images over the internet, is regarded as the processing of personal data.

NURTURING A CULTURE OF SAFEGUARDING GUIDANCE FOR INDICATOR S7

For further detailed information please refer to GAP Paper 1- Child Safeguarding and Digital Media.

3. Principles

All ministry conducted online with children should be guided by:

- Gospel values.
- Children's Rights.
- International and national law (child protection, criminal and data protection).

4. Initial planning

The following should be considered when communicating or engage with children and young people in Church ministry:

- Overall responsibility for ensuring the safety of children, including online, rests with the Church authority. It is important therefore that the Church authority should make a decision about whether Church personnel can communicate with children, using digital media. This decision should be based on the purpose of the communication, the safety approaches to be adopted, and an examination of data protection requirements. Consultation with the Data Protection Officer and the Safeguarding Co-ordinator should form part of the decision making process.
- If personal sensitive data is being shared, the Church authority must ensure there is a legal basis for sharing the data and must ensure safeguards are in place to protect this data.
- The Safeguarding Committee in consultation with the Data Protection Officer should draft guidance which identifies:
 - Purpose and method of online communication;
 - What social media platform will be used?
 - Risks to children and how these will be managed;
 - Consent requirements;
 - A clear code of online behaviour for both adults and children involved;
 - How the engagement will be monitored, from a child safeguarding perspective;
 - Storage and destruction of records.

5. Guidelines for online meetings

• Risks

When considering what the risks might be to children and the adults leading the ministry, it is important to consider what are the possibilities or likelihood that something harmful might happen to children. Like all ministries with children a localised risk assessment should be completed (see Guidance S5. A).

Here are some possible risks:

- Adults may pose as children to lure children into sexual contact.
- Children may be exposed to indecent language, images and content online.
- Children may be bullied online.
- Children may be groomed online.

Many of these risks equally apply in face to face contact; and protections can be put in place to reduce the risks.

• Ways of managing risks

As part of the risk assessment process there must be clear procedures in place that can be shared with any children who are participating and their parents or Guardians that set out how risks will be managed. These should include:

- Guidance on the use of technology which ensures privacy and security settings
- A clear code of behaviour for online activity which sets out –
 - Use of language;
 - Content that never crosses boundaries;
 - No sexual content;
 - How information including private e-mail and contact information will be stored, retained and destroyed;
 - Appropriate behaviour from the adults who are overseeing or supervising the ministry - Requirement to always model positive behaviour;
 - If using video, the appropriate location in the home to ensure privacy and allow appropriate oversight from parents/Guardians.
- Written consent from children and their parents or Guardians for online ministry.
- Guidance on what system will be used for monitoring the ministry.
- Guidance which ensures proper use of personal or profile information (do not expose personal information or allow a child to post personal information, as this may place them at risk, for example home address; personal feelings; relationships etc).
- A requirement that the content is pre-planned and approved to ensure the content is appropriate.

NURTURING A CULTURE OF SAFEGUARDING GUIDANCE FOR INDICATOR S7

- An anti-bullying procedure in line with the online code of conduct. This should provide the child with an easy to use mechanism to alert the facilitator that they are being bullied.
- Technology - Media Platforms must be assessed and considered safe for online engagement
- There are a wide range of platforms available. Each platform should be assessed for suitability for the planned activity, as well as for potential risk to children.
- Potential for risk of breach of data should be assessed, using the Data Protection Impact Assessment procedure of the Church body. Guidance on developing this is available on the website of the Information Commissioner (Northern Ireland) here <https://ico.org.uk/for-organisations/guide-to-data-protection/guide-to-the-general-data-protection-regulation-gdpr/data-protection-impact-assessments-dpias/> or from the Data Protection Commission (ROI) here <https://www.dataprotection.ie/en/organisations/know-your-obligations/data-protection-impact-assessments>).

- Equity issues to consider

All Church ministries should be available irrespective of class, gender, ethnicity or ability. It is important therefore to consider if online ministry could exclude any group of children – for example, some children may not have access to online technology or parents/Guardians may be reluctant to allow participation.

- Online etiquette (Netiquette)

Ensure that the ministry is conducted in line with the agreed code of behaviour including location and dress code is appropriate – for example, the online ministry will not be facilitated in bedrooms or where cameras can see other people who are not part of the ministry. Other areas for agreement may include e.g. disabling chat function; no food; remain seated.

- Organisation

When planning the ministry, it is important to send the link close to scheduled time to avoid danger of intrusion or interference by third parties; ask participants not to share link; use an ID for link; ensure the meeting room has a system which does not allow anyone to enter; have a welcome message at the front and any disclaimers e.g. 'Meeting in progress'.

- Training for online use

All those who seek to engage in electronic communication must be trained on the use of technology, the risks and the protections needed to keep children safe.

Children should also be offered advice and guidance on safe use of technology, how to keep themselves safe online and how to raise a concern if they are worried.

NURTURING A CULTURE OF SAFEGUARDING GUIDANCE FOR INDICATOR S7

S7.B Template 1 : Sample Online Procedure

[NAME OF CHURCH BODY] encourages ministry with children and young people online, if it is safe for children and the adults who work with them. Our paramount concern is the safety and welfare of children. We will put in place all measures to ensure that children are not placed at risk whilst participating in ministry online. We want this ministry to be fruitful and beneficial, not challenging or dangerous. The Church ministry at all times will respect the dignity of children.

[NAME OF MONITOR (this person is appointed by the Church Authority on an event basis)] has been appointed to oversee this ministry online.

Any intention to engage with children online must be discussed with [NAME OF SAFEGUARDING COORDINATOR] before approval from the Church authority is sought on an event by event basis.

[NAME OF CHURCH AUTHORITY] will determine if the purpose of the online ministry is safe, and in line with the ethos of the Church body.

In order for us to create a safe environment online the following will be adhered to:

- All adults engaging online will have been recruited in line with [NAME OF CHURCH BODY] procedures to meet indicator S1 of the Church's Child Safeguarding Policy.
- All adults will have read, understood and agreed to follow our online code of behaviour (use of language; boundaries; use of personal computers etc).
- Specific consent will be sought in writing from children and their parents/Guardians for participating in online ministry; this cannot be general consent but specifically for the purposes of a specified ministry.
- Children will be informed who to talk to if they are worried about anything which they have seen or been exposed to online.
- Personal information about the adults and children who are involved in this ministry will be stored in line with the Church body's data protection policy.
- The Ministry lead, in consultation with the safeguarding co-ordinator, will ensure that content, including photography and imaging, is in line with best child safeguarding advice.
- The Ministry lead will ensure that the location and dress code is appropriate: the online ministry should take place in a location which is private but safe for the child and appropriate clothing is worn; it will not be facilitated in bedrooms or where cameras can see other people who are not part of the ministry.
- In line with the Church body's risk assessment procedures and data protection procedures, all technology and social media platforms will be assessed prior to their use in online ministry.
- Any allegation, suspicion, concern or knowledge of child abuse will be reported in line with the Church body's reporting procedures.
- The lead person in the ministry should check on a regular basis that children feel comfortable during the meeting online.
- Upon conclusion of the online ministry, a review should take place to ensure that at all times risks were identified and managed and to evaluate whether the social media platform used, was fit for purpose.

S7.C Guidance on Use of Texting and Email

Texting and email are very quick and effective methods of communication for those involved in Church activities. Usually this does not include adult members of Church personnel contacting young people directly, as contact is usually made via their parents/guardians. However there are certain circumstances where contacting young people directly may be necessary (i.e. in an emergency or on a trip away), any members of Church personnel using this method of communication with young people should ensure appropriate safeguards are in place as there are certain risks associated with the safe and appropriate use of texting and email, which must be managed.

The risks of text and email messaging for children and young people are:

- Inappropriate access to, use of, or sharing of personal details (names, numbers, email addresses);
- Unwanted contact with children/young people from adults text bullying by peers etc.;
- Being sent offensive or otherwise inappropriate materials;
- Grooming for sexual abuse;
- Direct contact and actual abuse.

The risks for adults include:

- Misinterpretation of their communication with young people;
- Potential investigation (internal or by statutory authorities);
- Potential disciplinary action.

Using bulk (or bundled) text and email messaging

A way to minimise the risks above is to use bulk text messages. This is where the same text or email message is sent to several young people involved with a particular activity or group. The advantage of this approach is that it presents fewer opportunities for misuse and abuse than personal, one-to-one texting or emailing arrangements between staff or volunteers and children/young people. Therefore, one-to-one texting or emailing should be strongly discouraged and should only occur in exceptional circumstances. The same applies to emailing young people.

The following guidance is provided to minimise risk to all:

- Consent must be obtained from young people and their parents/guardians prior to sending young people text or email messages. Parents/guardians should be offered the option to be copied on texts and emails that their child will be sent.
- The young people's mobile phone numbers or email addresses should be stored safely and securely (Appendix B), with access only available to the specific identified members of Church personnel. The numbers or details should not be shared with anyone else, and should only be used for the purposes of the text and email messaging system regarding the Church activity;

NURTURING A CULTURE OF SAFEGUARDING GUIDANCE FOR INDICATOR S7

All text and email messages must be sent via a bundle to a group of young people, i.e. the same standard text message is sent to every member of the group. The text and email messaging system should never be used to send text or email messages on an individual basis (i.e. to just one person);

All text and email messages sent must make it clear to the young people receiving them who has sent the message;

Young people should not be given the opportunity to text or email back to the system. It should only be used as a one-way communication channel;

The text and email messages that are sent must never contain any offensive, abusive or inappropriate language;

When this guidance is being provided in relation to Church-related activities, all of the text or email messages sent must be directly related to Church activities. The text or email messaging system and mobile phone numbers must never be used for any other reason or in any other way;

All of the text and email messages sent should include a sentence at the bottom that provides young people with the opportunity to unsubscribe from receiving further text and email messages.

S7.D Guidance on Use of Photography

The use of photos on websites and in other online/hard copy publications can pose direct and indirect risks to children and young people. The Church authority wishing to use images of the children they work with, or are otherwise in contact with, should consider these guidelines.

The Church only has responsibility for safeguarding and the use of photography if it plans to use the photographs for Church purposes. Photographs taken at events organised by family and schools such as Communion, weddings or Confirmations (including when the photographer is employed by the school or family for these occasions) do not fall under the responsibility of the Church, unless they are being taken for Church purposes.

Risks to children

Even if the child's personal identity (full name, address) is kept confidential, other details accompanying the photo can make them identifiable and therefore vulnerable to individuals looking to groom children for abuse. There is also a risk that the photo itself will be used inappropriately by others. Photos can easily be copied and adapted, perhaps to create images of child abuse, which can then find their way on to other websites.

How to minimise risks

- Establish the type of images that appropriately represent the activity and think carefully about any images showing children and young people on the Church website or publication;
- Never supply the full name(s) of the child or children along with the image(s);
- Only use images of children in suitable dress and focused on the activity, rather than one particular child;
- Obtain permission: the permission of parents/guardians and children should always be sought when using an image of a young person. Parents/guardians should be aware of the Church's policy on using children's images and of the way these represent the Church or activity. This must be recorded on a joint consent form for use of images of children. The child's permission to use their image must also be recorded if they are less than eighteen years of age. This ensures that they are aware of the way the image is to be used to represent the activity (S7.A Template 1).

Using photographers to take photographs for Church purposes

The Church often employs photographers, or Church personnel may be asked as part of their role (e.g. Sacramental preparation team or pastoral assistant) to take photographs for certain sacramental or Church activities.

When using a photographer, it is important to do the following:

- Provide a clear brief about what is considered appropriate in terms of content and behaviour;

NURTURING A CULTURE OF SAFEGUARDING GUIDANCE FOR INDICATOR S7

- Ascertain if the photographer requires vetting and, if they do, put them through the process;
- Provide the photographer with a form of identification that must be worn at all times;
- Do not allow unsupervised access to children or one-to-one photo sessions at events;
- Do not allow photo sessions to take place away from the event, for instance, at a young person's home;
- Inform parents/guardians and children that a photographer will be in attendance, and ensure that they consent to both the taking and publication of photos or films;
- Seek confirmation from the photographer that they will only reproduce the photographs, in publications where he has consent to do so from the parents/guardians of the child;
- Clarify in writing who owns the images taken by the photographer and how they will be edited, used, stored and destroyed.

If parents/guardians and parishioners are intending to photograph or video at an organised event, they should also be made aware of what is permitted and what is not.

Responding to concerns

Children and parents/guardians should be informed that if they have any concerns regarding inappropriate or intrusive photography, these should be reported to the Church authority to ensure that any reported concerns are dealt with in the same way as any other child protection or child safeguarding issue.

S7.E Guidance on Use of CCTV and Webcams

The increasing use of CCTV and the internet has wide implications, and unless such systems are used with proper care and consideration they can give rise to concern that the individual's 'private space' is being unreasonably invaded or eroded. Each Church body must have an appropriate data protection policy in place that covers the use of webcam and CCTV images.

Section 2 (1) c (iii) of the Data Protection Act requires that data is 'adequate, relevant and not excessive' and fit for purpose for which it is collected.

If a data controller is satisfied that it can justify the installation of a CCTV system, they must carefully consider what it will be used for and if these uses are deemed reasonable in the circumstances.

Security of premises or other property is probably the most common use of a CCTV system and, as such, will typically be intended to capture images of intruders, or of individuals damaging property or removing goods without permission.

Using a CCTV to constantly monitor employees is highly intrusive and would need to be justified by reference to special circumstances. The retail sector is one example where there is evidence to suggest that money or goods could be removed without authorisation.

The location of CCTV is a key consideration, and its use within areas where individuals would have a reasonable expectation of privacy, e.g. toilets and changing rooms, would be difficult to justify.

Cameras placed so as to record external areas should be positioned in such a way as to prevent or minimise recording of passers-by, or of another person's private property.

Having acknowledged the positive and sometimes negative aspect of CCTV, each Church body should draw up a policy and guidelines in order to maximise the benefit of such installations and minimise the possibility of a person's privacy being infringed.

The following should be considered:

- If CCTV cameras are in place, it is important to have very obvious signs informing Church personnel, parishioners, volunteers and the public that this is the case;
- All uses of CCTV must be appropriate and fit for a specific purpose. As CCTV infringes the privacy of persons captured in the images, there must be a genuine reason for installing such a system;
- If installing such a system, the purpose for doing so must be displayed in a prominent place and preferably behind a locked noticeboard where it will not be damaged or removed. In a church, an obvious place would be within the porch and at all entrances;
- The length of time for the storage of images captured, access and security should be outlined in the Data Protection policy of the Church body.

NURTURING A CULTURE OF SAFEGUARDING GUIDANCE FOR INDICATOR S7

Web broadcasting

There are a number of data protection issues that must be met in relation to broadcasting on the internet. The policy should be reflective of these:

- Recording people via a web camera, and the subsequent displaying of such images over the internet, is regarded as the processing of personal data. It is imperative that it must be done with the consent of the individual;
- Camera shots (images) of the congregation should be wide shots, minimising the possibility of easily identifying individuals with close-up images;
- Signs should be placed at all entrances to the church and in other prominent locations, informing those attending ceremonies or visiting the church that web cameras are in operation and allowing someone the opportunity to sit in a place which isn't captured by the webcam if they choose;
- If the Church activity being recorded involves children (for example as altar servers, ministers of the word, choirs etc) then their written consent and that of their parents/guardians is required. While in most instances written consent can be done in advance, there are times when the gaining of consent must be handled sensitively. In the case of a funeral where a child is involved in the liturgy the member of Church personnel who is managing the funeral service should:
 - Seek confirmation from the family that they wish the webcam to be used;
 - Inform the parents of any children who are taking part in the liturgy and can be identified on the webcam, that it will be on and live streaming on the internet. The parents along with the child can then make an informed decision as to whether the child wishes to take part in the liturgy.
- It is imperative that live broadcasts can be terminated to stop transmission. This should be done by accessing the control panel of the system. If this is not accessible by the priest from the altar, someone should be delegated to break transmission if required.

S8.A Guidance on the Participation of Children with Specific Needs

Some children have specific needs¹ that place additional responsibilities on those who care for and work with them. It is often the situational and environmental factors that disable the child, rather than the physical or intellectual difficulty the child experiences. Where possible, the environmental factors should be adapted to the child's needs. Prohibitive attitudes need to be addressed through education and information.

Children who have a disability have the same rights as any other child, in line with the UN Convention on the Rights of the Child.

Points to consider when including a child with specific needs in your group:

- Work in partnership with the child, parents/guardians and any professionals involved to establish how the child can be included;
- Make sure inclusion is possible before bringing the child into the group;
- Make reasonable adjustments;
- Be interested in the child and build a rapport with them;
- If the child has a communication impairment, acquiring some key skills in their communication method will be useful;
- Some specific training may be useful or required, e.g. the autistic spectrum, epilepsy and others;
- Risk assessments may be necessary to ensure the safety of some children with specific needs;
- Higher staff ratios may be required if the child has additional needs or behavioural problems;
- Intimate care issues: when introducing a child with specific needs into an activity, it is important to establish if they have intimate care needs, and who should provide or assist with this if it is necessary. It is important to remember that not every child with a disability has intimate care needs. Intimate care is, to some extent, individually defined and varies according to personal experience, cultural expectations and gender. It may be described as help with anything of a personal or private nature that the individual is unable to do themselves;
- Children with specific needs may be more likely than other children to be bullied or subjected to other forms of abuse, and they may also be less clear about physical and emotional boundaries;
- It is particularly important that children with specific needs are carefully listened to, in recognition of the fact that they may have difficulty expressing their concerns, and so that the importance of what they say is not underestimated.

¹ Specific needs mean the specific, or unique, out-of-the-ordinary concerns created by a person's medical, physical, mental or developmental condition or disability. Additional services are usually needed to help a person in one or more of the following areas: thinking, communication, movement, getting along with others, and personal care.

NURTURING A CULTURE OF SAFEGUARDING GUIDANCE FOR INDICATOR S8

Generally, Church personnel are not expected to be involved in the provision of intimate care to children. This should be undertaken by suitably qualified people. Decisions regarding who provides intimate care for a child should be discussed and agreed by everyone concerned: the child's views should be ascertained; parents/guardians should be consulted and their consent sought; a rota of Guardians of the same sex as the child should be agreed; and the age, stage of development and ethnicity of the child will need to be considered. Most importantly, it should be agreed in advance who will carry out intimate care and how it should be done. Guidelines to be borne in mind when providing intimate care include: the sensitive nature of such tasks; the need to treat every child with dignity and respect; the need to ensure an appropriate degree of privacy; the need to involve the child as much as possible in their own care; and trying to ensure consistency in who provides care.

If a child appears distressed or unhappy, this should be discussed with parents/guardians, if appropriate, and the activity leader. Any concerns or allegations should be reported following the procedures outlined in the safeguarding policy and procedures document of the Church body.

S9.A Guidance on Whistle-Blowing

1. Introduction

Allegations, suspicions, knowledge and concerns about the abuse of a child which meet the threshold must be reported to statutory authorities and Church authority (if the allegation related to a cleric or religious) (see guidance R1.A).

This guidance relates to concerns about malpractice in child safeguarding.

All staff and volunteers ministering or volunteering within the Catholic Church in Ireland have an individual responsibility to bring matters of concern about any dereliction of duty to safeguard children, to the attention of the appropriate person within the Church or statutory authorities. This could be the parish priest, religious superior, bishop, provincial and/or relevant agency managers. Although this can be difficult to do, it is particularly important where the welfare of children may be at risk.

You may be the first to recognise that something is wrong, but you may not feel able to express your concerns out of a feeling that this would be disloyal to colleagues, or you may fear harassment or victimisation. These feelings, however natural, must never result in a child or young person continuing to be unnecessarily at risk. Children need an advocate to safeguard their welfare.

Don't think, 'what if I'm wrong?' Think, 'what if I'm right!'

2. What is whistleblowing?

Whistleblowing can be defined as 'raising concerns about wrong-doing or misconduct within an organisation or within an independent structure associated with it'. It differs from raising concerns about allegations of abuse.

The concern could relate to:

- a breach of the Church Body's child safeguarding procedures
- practice which falls below the standards set out in the safeguarding standards
- a breach of the law
- failure to comply with legal obligations
- a possible miscarriage of justice
- a Health & Safety risk
- misuse of public money
- corruption or unethical conduct
- deliberate concealment of any of these matters

Those in ministry within the Church have certain common law confidentiality obligations to their Church authority. However, in a limited set of circumstances, whistleblowing may override these obligations if a person has information which they believe will not be addressed properly within the Church.

This guidance sets out the circumstances under which these disclosures may lawfully be made.

3. Legislation underpinning whistleblowing

There is legislation in both jurisdictions related to whistleblowing; and this applies to clerics, religious, and employees of Church bodies, as well as to agency workers in certain circumstances; to contractors and consultants engaged on contract by the Church body; and to trainees, temporary workers and those on work experience with the Church body. In the Republic of Ireland this definition also includes volunteers.

Republic of Ireland

In the Republic of Ireland the legislation is called the Protected Disclosures Act 2014, which has been amended by the Protected Disclosures Amendment Act 2022.

The Protected Disclosures Act 2014 and the Amendment Act of 2022 aims to protect people who raise concerns about possible wrongdoing in the workplace. These Acts, are often called the whistleblower legislation. They provide for redress for those defined as 'workers' who are penalised for having reported possible wrongdoing in the workplace.

'Worker' means an individual working in the private or public sector who acquired information on relevant wrongdoings in a work-related context and includes—

- (a) an individual who is or was an employee,
- (b) an individual who entered into or works or worked under any other contract, whether express or implied and (if it is express) whether oral or in writing, whereby the individual undertook to do or perform (whether personally or otherwise) any work or services for another party to the contract for the purposes of that party's business,
- (c) an individual who works or worked for a person in circumstances in which—
 - (i) the individual is introduced or supplied to do the work by a third person, and
 - (ii) the terms on which the individual is engaged to do the work are or were in practice substantially determined not by the individual but by the person for whom the individual works or worked, by the third person or by both of them,
- (d) an individual who is or was provided with work experience pursuant to a training course or programme or with training for employment (or with both) otherwise than under a contract of employment,
- (e) an individual who is or was a shareholder of an undertaking,
- (f) an individual who is or was a member of the administrative, management or supervisory body of an undertaking, including non-executive members,
- (g) an individual who is or was a volunteer,
- (h) an individual who acquires information on a relevant wrongdoing during a recruitment process,
- (i) an individual who acquires information on a relevant wrongdoing during pre-contractual negotiations (other than a recruitment process referred to in paragraph (h)), and
- (j) an individual who is deemed to be a worker by virtue of subsection (2)(b), and any reference to a worker being employed or to employment shall be construed accordingly.”

Under the Acts, a protected disclosure is made by church personnel (identified as worker above) who discloses relevant information in a particular way. Information is relevant if it came to the Church personnel's attention in connection with their ministry, volunteer role, employment or recruitment process and they reasonably believe that it tends to show wrongdoing.

NURTURING A CULTURE OF SAFEGUARDING GUIDANCE FOR INDICATOR S9

Wrongdoing is widely defined in the Act and includes bullet points below:

- Criminal offences
- Failure to comply with a legal obligation (other than a workers contract of employment)
- Miscarriage of justice
- Endangerment of health and safety
- Damage to the environment
- Unlawful or improper use of public funds
- Oppressive, discriminatory or negligent behaviour by a public body
- Breaches of EU law
- Concealing or destroying evidence of wrongdoing

Northern Ireland

In Northern Ireland the law that covers whistleblowing is The Public Interest Disclosure (Northern Ireland) Order 1998, (as amended in October 2017). Whistleblowing is more formally known as ‘making a disclosure in the public interest’. The law states the importance of disclosing concerns, knowing that you are protected from losing your job and/ or being victimised as a result of what you have uncovered and made public.

An easy-to-read guide to the effect of this legislation is available to download from www.economy-ni.gov.uk/sites/default/files/publications/economy/public-interest-disclosure-guidance.pdf.

Canon Law

Vos estis lux mundi includes specific provisions in relation to protecting adults who report abuse under Article 4 which states:

§ 1. Making a report under Article 3 shall not constitute a breach of official secrecy.

§ 2. Except as provided in Canon 1390 CIC and Canons 1452 and 1454 CCEO, prejudice, retaliation, or discrimination for filing a report is prohibited and may constitute conduct under Article 1 § 1(b).

§ 3. No constraint of silence may be imposed on the person making a report, the person claiming to have been offended, and witnesses regarding the content of the report, subject to the provisions of Article 5 § 2.

4. Raising a concern of malpractice (In law this is called a disclosure)

For Church personnel and employees raising a concern/disclosure of malpractice, to be protected by the law, the concern/disclosure must be made to the right person and in the right way. If someone makes a qualifying disclosure in good faith to a Church Authority, or through Church procedures which the Church Authority has authorised, the law protects that person.

It is important to:

- Voice any concerns, suspicions or uneasiness as soon as possible. The earlier a concern is expressed the sooner and easier action can be taken;

NURTURING A CULTURE OF SAFEGUARDING GUIDANCE FOR INDICATOR S9

- Try to pinpoint exactly what practice is concerning and why;
- Approach your immediate superior/supervisor/manager;
- If your concern is about your immediate superior/supervisor/manager, please contact your DLP, the statutory services or the National Board;
- Confirm your concerns with factual information (dates, times details, history, giving names, dates, locations and any other relevant information) in writing;
- You are not expected to prove the truth of your disclosure, but you need to demonstrate sufficient grounds for concern.
- Seek a satisfactory response in writing; do not let matters rest, if you do not receive a response within a reasonable timeframe, write again seeking a written response. A failure to respond should be included in any further disclosure to the statutory authorities or the National Board.
- Follow up if the person to whom you reported has not responded within a reasonable period of time, and if that follow up is not acted upon, report the matter to the relevant statutory authorities.

5. Required response by relevant Church authority

Reporting Mechanisms for Church bodies(ROI only)

All Church bodies with 250 or more employees must establish internal channels for their workers to report wrongdoing. From 17 December 2023, this requirement will apply to all Church bodies with 50 or more employees.

- The internal channel should be designed and operated in a secure, GDPR compliant, manner that ensures the confidentiality of the reporting person and any other person(s) named in the report.
- Designation of a person or function to operate the channel, who will maintain communication with the reporting person, follow-up on the report and provide feedback to the reporting person.
- This person or function should have sufficient independence and authority within the organisation to carry out the functions specified in the Act.
- Persons operating the internal channel should be adequately trained in the handling of reports.
- The Church body must promote the existence of the internal channel and ensure workers have access to the procedures under which it operates.
- Church bodies can outsource the internal channel function, if they wish.

Response by the Church authority

- The Church person to whom the disclosure is made should acknowledge receipt in writing within 7 days of receiving it.
- Diligent follow up must then be taken by the Church body.
- Relevant information (including feedback on actions taken or planned to be taken) on the nature and progress of any enquiries resulting from the concern must be shared with the person who made the disclosure after 3 months and further feedback provided if requested every 3 months. It is acknowledged that confidential sensitive data cannot be shared so the response should include general information about internal inquiries and statutory referrals made.
- The Church person to whom the disclosure is made should keep detailed notes of the disclosure, action taken, who was consulted and the outcome of the inquiries.

NURTURING A CULTURE OF SAFEGUARDING GUIDANCE FOR INDICATOR S9

6. Protection of whistleblower

- Anyone who raises a concern through these whistleblowing procedures in good faith must be protected from harassment or victimisation.
- Whilst reporting may remain confidential, in most instances this cannot be guaranteed. Everyone has the right to know who makes a complaint against them. This should not deter one from raising the concern, but is a reminder of the importance of providing evidence to support the concern.
- No action will be taken against the whistleblower if the concern proves to be unfounded and was raised in good faith.
- Any act of penalisation that causes detriment to a reporting person is prohibited. Penalisation includes dismissal and also any other form of unfair treatment, such as suspension, reduction in wages or hours, demotion and transfer of duties as well as intimidation and harassment.
- Penalising a reporting person is a criminal offence.
- Reporting persons who suffer detriment can seek compensation at the Workplace Relations Commission (ROI) or the courts.
- Reporting persons are protected from any civil or criminal liability for reporting confidential information, provided it is done so in accordance with the law.
- Non-disclosure agreements cannot be used to prevent a person reporting a wrongdoing.
- Employers and regulators must keep the identity of the reporting person confidential.

7. Self-reporting

There may be occasions when a member of staff or a volunteer has a personal difficulty, perhaps a physical or mental health problem, which they know to be impinging on their professional competence. Staff and volunteers have a responsibility to discuss such a situation with their line supervisor/superior/manager so that professional and personal support can be offered to the member concerned.

8. Disclosure to an external person, other than statutory bodies, government officials or the National Board.

A disclosure made to an external person, for example, a journalist, may be a protected disclosure if it meets a number of conditions:

- You must reasonably believe that the information disclosed, and any allegation contained in it, are substantially true
- You must not make the disclosure for personal gain
- For making of the disclosure in public in all the circumstances, to be reasonable, at least one of these conditions must be met:
 - At the time you make the disclosure you must reasonably believe that you will be penalised if you make the disclosure to the Church authority, statutory personnel or a government minister, or National Board.
 - Where you reasonably believe that it is likely that the evidence will be concealed or destroyed if you make the disclosure directly to the Church authority, statutory body or National Board
 - You have previously made a disclosure of substantially the same information to the Church authority, statutory personnel, government minister or National Board.

NURTURING A CULTURE OF SAFEGUARDING GUIDANCE FOR INDICATOR S9

- The wrongdoing is of an exceptionally serious nature

The assessment of what is reasonable, takes account of, among other things: the person the disclosure is made to, the seriousness of the wrongdoing; and whether any action was taken in cases where a previous disclosure was made. In the Republic of Ireland if a person feels that they do not want to report to their employer or reporting to their employer has not worked, they can report to a regulator, known as a “prescribed person”.

A list of prescribed persons can be found at: www.gov.ie/prescribed-persons.

They can also report to the Protected Disclosures Commissioner who will refer the report to a suitable prescribed person. See: www.opdc.ie Public disclosure.

If all other options fail, workers can make a public disclosure. Such disclosures are subject to more stringent conditions to qualify for protection however.

S9.B Guidance on Complaints Procedure for Safeguarding Concerns that are not Allegations of Abuse

Introduction

A complaint is defined as a grievance and/or the raising of a concern about breaches of codes of behaviour. Allegations or suspicions of child abuse do not fall into this category of general complaints, and should always be dealt with in accordance with Guidance 2.1H . This complaints procedure is not for use by Church personnel who should use the whistle-blowing procedure to raise their complaint (Guidance S9.A).

All complaints will be taken seriously and dealt with fairly and confidentially. Efforts will be made to quickly and informally resolve complaints through discussion with the parents/guardians, children/young people, volunteers/members of staff and clergy, as appropriate.

Parents/guardians, young people/children, volunteers, members of staff and clergy will be made aware that there is a complaints procedure. A copy of the complaints form is available in Guidance S9.B Template 1.

If a parent/guardian, young person or child is not satisfied with any aspect of the running of a particular activity, or the behaviour of any individual involved in that activity, the following steps should be taken:

First step

All complaints of this nature should be resolved using an open dialogue with the Church personnel involved. If resolution is not possible, the following step should be taken.

Second step

1. The Church authority should be contacted by completing a complaints form (S9.B Template 1). The Church authority has eight weeks to consider the complaint.
2. A letter acknowledging receipt of the complaint should be sent within seven calendar days, enclosing a copy of the complaints procedure.
3. All complaints must be thoroughly investigated.
4. The Church authority may organise a meeting to discuss and hopefully resolve the complaint. This communication may also take place by telephone if a meeting is not possible. They will do this within fourteen calendar days of sending the acknowledgement letter to the complainant.
5. Within seven days of the meeting or discussion, the Church authority will write to the complainant to confirm what took place and to set out any solutions that were agreed upon.
6. If a meeting is not agreeable or possible, the Church authority will issue a detailed written reply to the complainant, setting out their suggestions for resolving the matter within twenty-

NURTURING A CULTURE OF SAFEGUARDING GUIDANCE FOR INDICATOR S9

1. one calendar days of sending the acknowledgement letter to them.
2. If the complainant is still not satisfied at this point, they should contact the Church authority again.

At the conclusion of this step, the Church authority may decide to take further action on the complaint. If, however, the Church authority decides not to take further action, the process is completed.

Child Safeguarding Policy Statement of [INSERT NAME OF CHURCH BODY] ministering in [INSERT NAME OF COUNTRY]

The [INSERT NAME OF CHURCH BODY] ministering in [INSERT COUNTRY] are involved with the following ministry with children [INSERT TYPE OF CHILDREN'S MINISTRY].

In carrying out this ministry we recognise and uphold the dignity and rights of all children, are committed to ensuring their safety and well-being, and will work in partnership with parents/ guardians to do this. We recognise each child as a gift from God, and we value and encourage the participation of children in all activities that enhance their spiritual, physical, emotional, intellectual and social development.

All our members and those who volunteer and work with us under our authority (including clergy, religious, staff and volunteers) have a responsibility to safeguard children through promoting their welfare, health and development in a safe and caring environment that supports their best interests and prevents abuse.

INTERNATIONAL CHILD SAFEGUARDING POLICY

Principles

In developing and implementing the Child Safeguarding Policy, this Church body is guided by the following foundations:

1. Gospel

Children have a key place in the heart of Jesus who said: 'Whoever does not receive the kingdom of God like a child shall not enter it' (Luke 18:17). This places a sacred obligation on the Church to ensure that children are welcomed, cherished and protected in a manner consistent with their central place in the life of the Church.

2. Children's Rights, National Law and Canon Law

The United Nations Convention on the Rights of the Child (UNCRC) outlines the forty-two fundamental rights to be implemented in national law by signatories to the Convention (this includes the Holy See and [INSERT NAME OF COUNTRY OF MINISTRY]). Full realisation of these rights will ensure that children will be 'brought up in a spirit of peace, dignity, tolerance, freedom, equality and solidarity', whilst respecting the cultural identity of each child.

[INSERT NAME OF CHURCH BODY] as part of our charism [INSERT REFERENCE TO CHARISM OF THE CHURCH BODY] commits to upholding our obligations under the following:

[INSERT RELEVANT CHILD CARE LEGISLATION, VETTING LEGISLATION, CRIMINAL JUSTICE LEGISLATION AND ASSOCIATED GUIDANCE OF COUNTRY OF MINISTRY].

[INSERT NAME OF CHURCH BODY] also recognises the requirements under canon law which states [INSERT RELEVANT CANON LAW INFORMATION].

Commitments

Together with the Principles outlined above, this Church body, as part of the Catholic Church, commits to:

1. Mandatory reporting

Each of us has a duty to notify the statutory authorities of suspicions, concerns, knowledge or allegations that a child is being or has been abused:

- physically
- emotionally
- sexually
- through neglect

Suspicions, concerns, knowledge or allegations may relate to possible abuse by a member of Church personnel, but they can also relate to incidents in the child's family, or elsewhere in the community.

NURTURING A CULTURE OF SAFEGUARDING INTERNATIONAL CHILD SAFEGUARDING POLICY

2. Caring for the welfare of all children and the adults who work with them

Measures to create and maintain environments that are safe for children, that prevent abuse and that create nurturing, caring conditions within the Church for children and the adults who work with them, will continue to be strengthened and reviewed. This will be done through training, support, communications and quality assurance.

3. Responding appropriately to child protection suspicions, concerns, knowledge or allegations

Anyone who brings any suspicion, concern, knowledge or allegation of current or past abuse of a child to the notice of the Church will be responded to sensitively, respectfully, actively and in a timely manner, in line with statutory child protection procedures and Church requirements.

All suspicions, concerns, knowledge or allegations that reach the threshold for reporting to the civil authorities (apart from those received in the Sacrament of Reconciliation¹) will be reported through the appointed Church representative. This will be done irrespective of the status of the person (lay, cleric or religious) who is suspected of having been abusive to a child. If the allegation relates to a lay member of [INSERT NAME OF CHURCH BODY], in addition to notifying the statutory authorities, the allegation must be reported to the lead person in the [INSERT NAME OF CONGREGATION].

If the allegation relates to a cleric or religious from Ireland, in addition to notifying the statutory authorities, the allegation must also be reported to the Church authority and the National Board for Safeguarding Children in the Catholic Church in Ireland.

All Church personnel will co-operate with the statutory authorities in all cases.

4. Caring pastorally for complainants and other affected persons

Those who have suffered child abuse by Church personnel will receive a compassionate and just response, and will be offered appropriate pastoral care, counselling and support as they seek to rebuild their lives.

An appropriate pastoral response to the family, parish, congregation or order and to the wider community will be provided, with due regard to the right of privacy of those directly involved, and to the administration of justice.

Caring pastorally for respondents and other affected persons.

1. The sacramental seal is inviolable; therefore it is absolutely forbidden for a confessor to betray in any way a penitent in words or in any manner and for any reason, Code of Canon Law, c.983.1, in Catholic Church (1983), The Code of Canon Law: Latin-English Edition (Washington, DC: Canon Law Society of America).

NURTURING A CULTURE OF SAFEGUARDING INTERNATIONAL CHILD SAFEGUARDING POLICY

5. Caring pastorally for respondents and other affected persons

[INSERT NAME OF CHURCH BODY] in its response to suspicions, concerns, knowledge or allegations of child sexual abuse will respect the rights under civil law and canon law of an accused cleric or religious or other Church personnel. A legal presumption of innocence will be maintained during the statutory and Church inquiry processes. As the processes develop, additional assessment, therapy and support services may be offered to the respondent.

The [INSERT TITLE OF CHURCH AUTHORITY] will take responsibility for ensuring that any cleric or religious who is considered to constitute a danger to children is managed according to a risk management plan.

All requisite steps will be taken to restore the good name and reputation of anyone who has been wrongly accused of abusing a child.

Respondents belong to families and diocesan or religious communities. The [INSERT TITLE OF CHURCH AUTHORITY] will be mindful of the need to provide support to members of families and communities affected by the respondent's changed situation.

Scope of the Policy

This policy applies to all members, and those who work with [INSERT NAME OF CHURCH BODY] (lay staff and volunteers) who are required to comply with it. Full understanding of and adherence to this policy should lead to a deepening in the understanding of, and respect for, the rights of children and young people to participate as people of faith in the life of the Church.

The care and protection of children involved in Church activities is the responsibility of the whole Church, and is a requirement that applies regardless of the nature of the Church activities in which children are involved. Everyone who participates in the life of the Church has a role to play in creating an environment in which children can develop and be safe.

Putting the Policy into Action

The [INSERT NAME OF CHURCH BODY] will implement this policy by ensuring that all our ministry and activities comply with the following:

1. Creating and Maintaining Safe Environments.
2. Procedures for Responding to Child Protection Suspicions, Concerns, Knowledge or Allegations.
3. Care and Support for the Complainant.
4. Care and Management of the Respondent.

Standards

1. Creating environments that are safe for children

The [INSERT NAME OF CHURCH BODY] recognises that children are precious and may be vulnerable in our care and that it is essential that safeguards are put in place to ensure they are not placed at risk. The following approach will be adopted by all our ministries:

- Clear codes of behaviour when conducting ministry with children which sets out that it is never acceptable to touch a child in a sexual way; to engage a child in inappropriate conversation; to view child pornography; to physically assault a child etc.
- Guidance on the vetting of priests, religious, paid staff and volunteers
- Guidance on one to one contact with a child
- Guidance on the use of IT and online communication
- [INSERT ADDITIONAL PROCEDURES HERE]

2. Procedures for Responding to Child Protection Allegations

In line with canon law, a child is defined as anyone under the age of eighteen for the purposes of any ministry provided by [INSERT NAME OF CHURCH BODY].

Children can be abused in the following ways: (INSERT LOCAL DEFINITIONS OF ABUSE)

Any form of sexual behaviour with a minor, whether child or adolescent, is always sexual abuse. It is both immoral and criminal in both civil and canon law. This includes abuse of children through digital media.

When ministering with [INSERT NAME OF CHURCH BODY] any abuse of a child will not be tolerated and will be responded to by reporting to the statutory authorities and disciplinary action.

Physical abuse will not be used to discipline a child while the child is in the care of [INSERT NAME OF CHURCH BODY].

The paramount consideration in all matters relating to children is their safety and protection from all forms of abuse.

To create and maintain a safe environment, [INSERT NAME OF CHURCH BODY] must respond effectively to ensure all allegations and suspicions of abuse are reported, both within the Church and to statutory authorities. This responsibility to report is mandatory, and the only exception to this rule is the receipt of any information by a cleric under what is termed as the sacramental Seal of Confession. If it is not possible or safe to report to the Police, internal Church action must be transparent and have at its core a focus on the safety of children. Abuse of children is a crime in civil and in canon law and must not be covered up in any way, but addressed through a senior member who has the authority to ensure that the alleged perpetrator does not have access to children.

The following action should be taken when an allegation is received:

NURTURING A CULTURE OF SAFEGUARDING INTERNATIONAL CHILD SAFEGUARDING POLICY

A report is made to the Ordinary who will:

- ensure it is reported to the statutory authorities
- ensure allegations involving child sexual abuse of a child where the respondent is a cleric are reported to CDF
- make a decision about removing the accused from public ministry
- ensure support is offered to the complainant
- ensure support is offered to the accused

Following police inquiry, if the matter relates to a cleric or religious a preliminary investigation/collecting the proofs under canon law should be initiated (see Standard 4).

Following inquiries by the statutory authorities, if the matter relates to a lay person a disciplinary inquiry should be activated. If there is a finding against the lay person, consideration should be given to dismissing the person.

3. Care of Complainants

We [INSERT NAME OF CHURCH BODY] wish to respond with compassion and understanding attitude to anyone who informs us of an allegation of child abuse against any of our members, staff or volunteers. We know that it takes courage and confidence to come forward. We are aware that the experiences and responses of victims can vary and that cultural values need to be given consideration here.

Complainants may often find it difficult to trust those in positions of authority or pastoral care and even to believe or trust in God. They may go through a long period of silence, denial and repression. Others may even refuse to believe the victims, thereby reinforcing the sense of guilt and shame.

The intensity of the effects of abuse on the victims will vary. Some of the factors involved are the age and personality of the victim, the relationship with the offender, the duration and frequency of the abuse, the particular form of the abuse, the degree of force used and the threats used to compel secrecy.

A compassionate response to the alleged victim - the one bringing the complaint - must be the first priority in all cases of abuse. If the victim is a child, make sure you meet them with a trusted adult (parent/guardian). Take care when meeting with children who disclose abuse as you may not have the appropriate skills to respond. Consider consulting with social services.

You should:

- Treat the victim with respect.
- Listen to the victim.
- Treat each case as unique.
- It is advisable to have another person present and invite the victim to have a support person for his or her assistance during the initial interview.
- Offer pastoral support and spiritual assistance.
- Make a record of what the victim tells you advise what you will do with the information (report to [INSERT TITLE OF CHURCH AUTHORITY], statutory authorities etc).

NURTURING A CULTURE OF SAFEGUARDING INTERNATIONAL CHILD SAFEGUARDING POLICY

If you are unsure of how to proceed, seek advice from the Conference of Major Superiors in your area.

4. Care and Management of Respondents

Those who have been accused of abusing a child are presumed innocent until guilt is either admitted or determined by due process. However, a member of [INSERT NAME OF CHURCH BODY] (or staff or volunteer) accused of abuse must step aside from external ministry while the matter is pending in order to avoid minimising the accusation. Nonetheless, it is to be clearly understood that the person is on leave and that no admission of guilt is implied by this fact.

Any investigation by the statutory authorities must be allowed to proceed prior to any internal Church or disciplinary investigation. Following conclusion of the statutory authorities' investigation the following will be initiated by the [INSERT TITLE OF THE CHURCH AUTHORITY]:

- If the allegation is against a cleric or religious the preliminary investigation under canon law will proceed. This will include:
 - The appointment of an independent person to interview the respondent; the victim and gather any corroborating evidence.
 - A report will be drafted for the Ordinary who will determine if there is a case to answer. The Ordinary may seek external advice.
 - If there is no case to answer the respondent will be returned to ministry.
 - If there is a case to answer further canonical action will proceed:
 - For ordained clerics the CDF will be informed
 - For Vowed Religious the Superior General will be informed
 - Action in relation to restricting the respondents ministry on a permanent basis will be determined by the canonical process in consultation with the CDF/Superior General
- In the case of allegations against members who are deceased it may not be possible to establish the credibility of the allegations. However, in all cases pastoral care, counselling and support will be offered to the person who makes the allegation to the extent possible.
- In the case of allegations against former members although the congregation is no longer responsible for them, the allegations will be reported to the statutory authorities and efforts will be made to provide records to establish if there is any information that can be corroborate them. In all cases pastoral care, counselling and support will be offered to the person who makes the allegation to the extent possible.
- The accused has a right to legal advice.
- Remind the accused to have no contact with the alleged victim.
- Therapy should be offered to the member
- If there is a case to answer a safety plan should be put in place which seeks to reduce risk to children. Care needs to be given to the placement of the respondent (in a safe place, not near a school or near a place where minors congregate). In most cases, some type of supervision will be required.

NURTURING A CULTURE OF SAFEGUARDING INTERNATIONAL CHILD SAFEGUARDING POLICY

- Offer the accused spiritual assistance.
- Determine who information should be shared with e.g. if the respondent is in ministry in a diocese it may be required that the bishop be informed of the allegation. Have due regard to data protection legislation.
- Put in writing the restrictions on the member.

5. Care for Others

We acknowledge that the wider community is also affected by sexual abuse. We should strive to offer pastoral care and support in providing psychological and spiritual healing of those persons who, as well as the victims, have been seriously affected by incidents of abuse. The effect on the family of the victim can be profound. Disclosure can be very difficult for the victim and the wider family/community and we should guard against any rejection of the victim rather than facing reality. Parents can feel guilty that they did not protect their child more effectively.

Therefore, we recommend as far as possible that truthful explanation is given to families affected, communities affected, confreres and co-workers of the place where the respondent ministered. A meeting between the [INSERT TITLE OF THE CHURCH AUTHORITY] and those affected can be of great healing to all concerned.

There will be times when it is essential to share information e.g. in relation to a safety plan so as to reduce risk to children. Each case should be considered on its own merits.

It is possible that in sharing information that other allegations might emerge.

At all stages, whilst respecting an individual's right to privacy and their good name, you must avoid any appearance of a cover-up or any type of mitigation or denial of truth. In all cases be mindful of the data protection rights and confidentiality of all parties concerned: follow civil laws regarding what can or cannot be divulged and what must be divulged.
